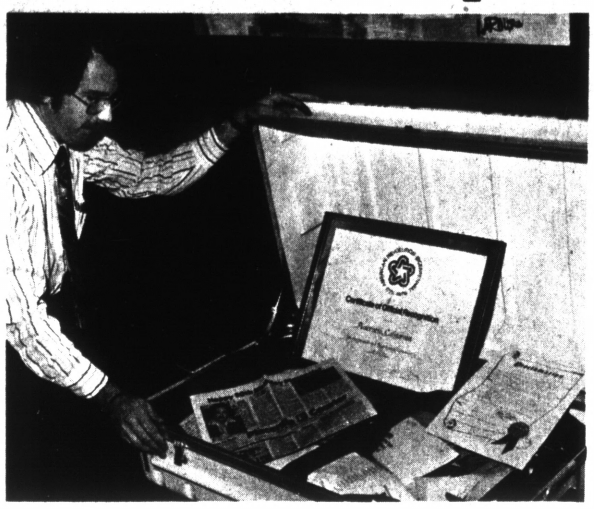
A Surprise Package For 2026!



A TREASURE CHEST of materials for Placentians 50 years from now was buried last week on the city's 50th birthday. One item included was the anniversary copy of The Placentia Courier. Here city staff member Jack Slota takes a last look at the items before the locker is closed. [Picture above]

A LESSON IN HISTORY for young Johnny Reid, who will be three in January, is explained by dad, Marvin Reid, chairman of the time capsule committee for the city's Bicentennial. If Johnny can remember 50 years and is still living in Placentia he will be able to provide a link between the beginning and ending of the project. Also intrigued by the event were participants [to the right of Reid] Shirley Hunt, secretary at Wagner Elementary School who celebrated her 50th birthday December 2, the day the time capsule was placed; Bicentennial committee officers Doris Black and Barbara Reid and Councilwoman Virginia Farmer and Councilman Donald Holt. [Center picture].

THE FINAL TOUCH on the treasure box is provided by city employees Frank Perez and Paul Vasquez as they fill in the area with sand. Then it was officially sealed for 50 years. The ceremony took place in the front yard of the Bradford House, another Placentia landmark. [Picture above].

Variety of Items Go Into Time Capsule

BY BETTY MEAD

The Bicentennial Committee members and a few dignitaries buried an impressive-size time parcel last week, full of information for those who retrieve it in 50 years.

The event, which marked the 50th birthday of the city of Placentia took place Thursday on the front grounds of the Bradford House.

The special materials, which would hopefully be opened on the city's 100th birthday, were first encased in plastic sheeting a styrofoam case, more plastic and a cardboard box. All of this was placed upended in a cement manhole, which had a poured cement bottom.

Into this cement hole was shoveled sand with both a wooden and cement top planned to complete the vault.

Barring earthquakes, it may take a persuasive substance to open it up fifty years from now. It won't be exceptionally easy.

Both the mayor and mayor pro tem were unavoidably detained, but councilpeople Donald Holt and Virginia Farmer made it official.

There were no speeches, no music and no appropriate last words, but Bicentennial Committee members

Flashing Light Sought By Wagner PTA

Concern for the safety of school children walking to school against Placentia's mounting vehicular traffic, has been the subject at recent public meetings.

Discussed at the joint meeting of the Placentia Unified School District trustees and the Placentia City Council held last week, was the need for a flashing beacon on Yorba Linda Boulevard, one of the busiest streets in the city, which youngsters must cross to reach Wagner Elementary School.

Joanne Sammons, representing the PTA explained that the group working on obtaining the beacon had been unable to get cooperation from Orange County for partial payment for the light. The school grounds border on county territory and Yorba Linda Boulevard runs from city to county domain along the stretch.

Mrs. Sammons explained that the effort to obtain the flashing beacon has continued for over a year. The school however, has a crossing guard.

Free Flu Shots At Center

The Placentia Community Clinic, in cooperation with the Orange County Health Department, is sponsoring a swine flu clinic on Tuesday, December 14, from 5 to 9 p.m. at the Whitten Community Center, 900 S. Melrose Avenue, Placentia.

The clinic is free of charge and open to anyone 18 years and older.

The bivalent vaccine supplied by the Health Department will provide protection against both the swine influenza virus and the A/Victoria virus.

Further information may be obtained by calling the Placentia Office of Social Services at 993-8178.

Old St. Nick Will Be Here Quick

Placentia youngsters are in luck again this Christmas.

Word has been received from the North Pole, the Placentia Recreation Department reports, that St. Nick has arranged his busy schedule so that he can make house visits here.

He also will be answering his Christmas mail.

Anyone wishing to write to Santa should do so immediately go give him plenty of time to reply.

All letters should be addressed to Santa Claus, in care of the North Pole and mailed at the Placentia Post Office. All letter writers are asked to put their names and addresses on their letters to ensure an answer from Santa.

The last date for Santa mail is December 19.

But Santa will be visiting in local homes from December 18 through December 23.

Anyone wishing a personal visit from Santa Claus, should drop by the city's Recreation Department office at 117 North Main.

Reservations for the Santa house-calls can be made as early as Monday, December 13.

Fees for housecalls are $4 from one to 15 minutes and one to five children; $7 one to 30 minutes and six or more children and $15 one to 60 minutes and 25 or more children.

Further information is available at 993-8232.

Roller Skating Rink Under Construction

Construction is already under way on the Skate Factory, a 24,000 square foot "new concept" roller skating facility to be located at Imperial Highway and Rose Drive in Placentia, according to Roger Clark co-owner/developer of the project.

The Skate Factory is scheduled to open in March and will offer a wide range of skating activities in colorful and well supervised surroundings, Clark reports.

Like all "new concept" skating factories being built nation wide, Skate Factory will include the latest sound suppressing devices including an epoxy plastic skating floor, carpet throughout including the walls and an accoustical ceiling.

The $750,000 Skate Factory will also have a sophisticated stereophonic sound system, a professional recreation staff and a balanced program that will appeal to skaters of all ages and levels of competency.

"Skate Factory will be the most technically advanced skating center in Southern California," said Clark, "with an extremely different atmosphere than old style rinks. The colorful interior and well programmed slate of activities will provide a pleasant atmosphere for the entire family."

Skate Factory will have a 170 foot by 80 foot skating floor, birthday party room, game machines, pro shop and snack bar.

Turkey Shoot To Benefit Youngsters

Just like the good old days. It's a Turkey Shoot.

It could be the battle of the century, the Purple Pig vs. the Truculent Turkey, and it is open to all sharpshooters, announced Bob Davis, exalted ruler of Placentia-Yorba Linda Elks #2536.

The lodge is sponsoring the First Annual Benefit Invitational Turkey Shoot December 11, noon to 5 p.m. at the Izaac Walton Pistol Range, adjacent to the Country Club Village Shopping Center, E. Yorba Linda Blvd., Yorba Linda.

Turkeys will be awarded to the six top shooters, and non-turkey pies to the close calls, according to co-chairmen Dick Dean and Leon A. Navarro.

Weapons will be single-shot .22 calibre rifles with iron sights only. Targets will be at a distance of 50 feet. A $1 donation pays for one shot.

Donations will benefit the lodge's major project, which is part of a state-wide program designed to benefit children with physical and mental problems.

The Purple Pig is a small plastic bank used by every Elk in the California-Hawaii district to personally raise funds for the major project program.

Architect, Engineer Selected For Yard

Engineering and architectural consultants have been selected for Placentia's new corporation yard with a vote by city council at a recent meeting.

The engineering firm of L.P. Leavitt was chosen by a two member council committee of Mayor Pro Tem William Rashford and Councilwoman Virginia Farmer and confirmed by the council. Rashford and Mrs. Farmer also selected Wendell Mounce and Associates as the architects.

Mounce was the architect for the

Slurry Seal Project Underway

A project to cover close to 85 Placentia city streets with a slurry seal coating began Monday and will continue through Friday, December 17, city staff reported this week.

With some mechanical difficulties encountered, actual work on the streets got underway Tuesday. Scheduled for repavement Tuesday were Bradford Avenue (Chapman Avenue and Crowther Avenue), an alley off Walnut Street, Melody Lane (Twilight to Walnut) and Walnut Street.

Others included Lawrence Street, Arnold Drive, Avenida de Pio Pico, Cypress Avenue, Vista Avenue, Gonzales Avenue and La Jolla Road (Gonzales to Melrose).

Residents living on streets for the Wednesday and following schedules were advised that they cannot drive on the roads until dry. Children are to be kept off of the new surfacing as it is sticky and adhesive and water is not to run on the seal until it is firm.

Streets will be barricaded until they are ready for transit, staff reported.

The Wednesday, December 8 schedule includes: Barry Place, Robbie Place, Anna Jeanne Drive, Cypress Point Drive, Monaco Circle, Normandy Avenue, Valencia Avenue (south of Palm Drive), Lawn Avenue, part of Kenoak Drive, Tartan Circle and Scotch Circle.

On Thursday, December 9: Arrowhead Drive, Highlander Avenue, Heather Avenue, Peg Place, Moss Circle, Seville Street and three alleys in that section.

On Friday, December 10: Burgundy Way, Larry Lane, Normandy Avenue, Orleans Drive, Lucerne Avenue, Limerick Drive, Rockaway Drive and Shady Lane.

The next week, starting on Monday, December 13: Beal Avenue, Stanley Avenue, Canard Avenue, Ranchero Way, Kingston Road, Larkspur Drive, Islandia Drive and Livingston Avenue.

Tuesday, December 14: Laurelwood Avenue, Heritage Avenue, inside lanes of Livingston Avenue, Sierra Bonita Drive, Louise Drive, Fisher Circle, Loreto Place, Borromeo Avenue and Santa Anita Avenue.

Wednesday, December 15: McKenzie Drive, Lute Avenue, Roxborough Drive, Cartlen Drive, Brooklyn Avenue, Mignon Way, Heloise Way, Royal Stewart Drive, Cobb Avenue and Spahn Lane.

Chamber Will Occupy New Offices

The Placentia Chamber of Commerce, which has been located south of Chapman Avenue on Bradford Avenue, will move a block to the north, it was reported this week.

New headquarters for the chamber after January 15, 1977, will be 119 North Bradford Avenue.

The new office site formerly housed the Thomas Shipkey Insurance Brokers. The building sides on Kraemer Park opposite the Backs Community Building.

Tri-City Park Almost Ready For Shovels

Possibility that construction may begin soon on the 40-acre Tri-City Park, located at the northwest corner of Placentia, was expressed last week by Placentia Mayor George De Jesus, who is also chairman of the Park Authority.

Property to be developed into the elaborate lake-oriented park is held in joint ownership by the three cities of Placentia, Brea, and Fullerton and is located where the three municipalities join. Also assisting with the project is the County of Orange.

De Jesus said that plans for the park have been approved by Sacramento and are in the process of returning here. He predicted that construction might start as early as January, 1977.

Fictitious Names

A 1971 law required all persons who operate businesses under a fictitious name to publicly identify themselves by filing a Fictitious Name Statement with their county clerk and publishing the statement in a qualified newspaper of general circulation in the area where the business is conducted.

In addition, the law requires every business owner to refile a new statement with the county clerk at five year intervals. The final month for refiling of statements first filed in 1971 is this present month of December, 1976.

The COURIER will make all necessary filing and publication forms available at its office as a service to local business owners and attorneys and will arrange to have statements filed at the office of the County Clerk.

Happy Birthday!

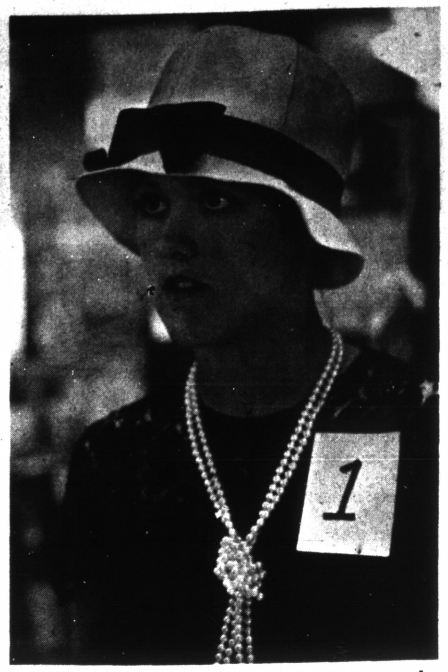
A BIRTHDAY BALL sponsored by members of the Placentia Junior Round Table was the city's official dance to celebrate its 50th birthday. The event took place Friday night at the Alta Vista Country Club. A midnight snack is enjoyed here by Marty Rogers, the group's president and Susan Weber, ways and means chaiman. Steve Brown is seated across the table. The Johnny Anello Orchestra played for the festivities. Also assisting with the event were members of the city's Bicentennial Committee.



HAVEN'T WE MET SOMEPLACE BEFORE? Anyone who can supply a name and a place to that old line should call 528-2525 very quickly. The first person with the right answer will receive $5 from his selected Placentia Courier advertiser. Last week's young lady with the peg board was Kerri Wolfe who attends the Placentia Community Nursery School, an 18-year institution at the Placentia Presbyterian Church. She was named by Linda Calvert, Placentia who selected her prize at Wagon Masters.

Crossing Problems Arouse Parents

A hard fought battle to keep a school crossing guard at the busy corner of Kraemer Boulevard and Bastanchury Road, was won by a technicality recently when a group of concerned parents appeared before the Placentia City Council.

The corner had failed to qualify for a guard because it has a light signal and does not have a sufficient number of vehicles turning into a large enough count of youngsters.

After a well organized and lengthy public hearing in which several people from the community participated, Mayor Pro Tem William Rashford pointed out that the street, divided by a center divider does not have an adequate median refuge area "or even a pushbutton control."

Rashford added that youngsters caught in the middle of a signal when the light changed "would have to stand there a long time before another walk cycle came around."

The city council had previously acquiesced to a request to place a crossing guard at the intersection for a 60-day period, to assist youngsters crossing from the west to attend Brookhaven Elementary School on the east.

The parents and PTA members sought a continuance of the guard on the basis that the measure was essential to the safety of the school children at the crossing.

Mayor George De Jesus took exception with the large representing group at one point in the hearing and asked: "Have you or your body approached the state government? Have you approached county government? Have you approached the school board? We are the last of the governing agencies and we have the smallest percentage of your tax dollar."

Crossing guards have traditionally been employed and paid for from city funds on city streets. Ben Minamide, the city's Director of Community Development said that the county would be involved in county roads and the state on state highways such as Imperial Highway.

Mrs. John Harman, a PTA member, explained that the walk signal at the intersection lasts a total of 45 seconds until it turns to red, including the "don't walk" warning.

"We would like to thank the police department who have come to our schools," Mrs. Harman added "Our point is that the cars however are not trained not to hit these children. We feel strongly that an adult (crossing guard) would greatly enhance the safety of our children.

"We understand that a crossing guard cannot be stationed at every intersection. We have gone to Traffic Safety Committee meetings many times without very successful results. We do not want to wait until we have statistics of fatalities to bring to you. That is why we are asking for your immediate action to install a permanent crossing guard at this intersection."

On a further skirmish between Councilman Jack Gomez, Mayor George De Jesus and the principal of Brookhaven School, John McClanahan, as to why the group of people were appearing before that city, the principal pointed out that 500 people have signed a petition.

"The city as I understand it," McClanahan began, "through the

High School Musicians Present Christmas Program

Singers from El Dorado, Esperanza and Valencia high schools in the Placentia Unified School District will join with the Placentia Youth Orchestra to present a special holiday program in the Valencia High School Auditorium Thursday, Dec. 9, at 7:30 p.m.

The El Dorado Chamber Singers directed by Dwight Fichtner, the Esperanza Chamber Singers directed by Dwain Miller and the Valencia Vocal Ensemble directed by Ron Kean, will each present a 20-minute segment of the program.

The Placentia Youth Orchestra directed by Bill Foster and Assistant Director Andrew Bumatay, will play several Christmas selections.

The program finale will feature all vocalists and instrumentalists in the Robert Shaw Cantata Suite III entitled "The Many Moods of Christmas." This special arrangement of the Shaw cantata was ordered on a rental basis from New York for the presentation by the Placentia schools.

Tickets for this program are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and are available at the door or from vocal music students at each high school and members of the Placentia Youth Orchestra.

Proceeds will be divided among participating school groups.

Meeting On Paving Problems

Some "Civic Center" horse-trading was tacitly considered last week at a joint meeting of the trustees of the Placentia Unified School District and members of the Placentia City Council.

The joint session covered several items including the problems of completion of the paving in front of the entrance of the PUSD Administrative offices on a top of a hill on Orangethorpe Avenue, east of Rose Drive. Also the street in front of El Camino Real High School, which is on adjacent property on Orangethorpe.

Superintendent of Schools John O. Tynes suggested "some horse-trading" to the assembled group. Tynes explained that the schools had no reserve or special funds to handle the cost of the paving which would provide left turn pockets in front of the entrances of both buildings.

"The only money we have with which we have been able to work with and trade off with is the "Civic Center" funds, " Tynes explained. The fund, Tynes estimated, runs around $300,000 a year.

In return for the city's bearing the expense of the paving, the schools would surface 14 tennis courts which are in need of it, using "Civic Center" monies, Tynes outlined. If this is not agreeable to the city some other exchange in work could be evolved involving similar amounts of money.

The lack of paving on Orangethorpe has left some dirt pockets in front of the El Camino Real High School.

Tynes described the "Civic Center" plan as a 30-year-old gentlemen's agreement. With city parks purposely placed on the edge of school grounds, the plan calls for the joint use of school and park facilities as a savings to the taxpayers.

The 30-year-old program has been approved by both groups for 22 years in the future.

Tynes said the the "Civic Center" plan "we estimated at one time had saved the city over $200,000. We have both benefited from it. It has worked out real well," Tynes added.

The "Civic Center" is funded by a ten cents tax levy, the superintendent stated.

Also discussed under the joint agreement were completion of facilities at Wagner Park, adjacent to Wagner School; parking needs at Tuffree Park, which is adjacent to Tuffree Junior High School and also the Tri-City Park.

Another topic was the possibility of developing an extensive sports complex on the Kraemer Junior High School grounds. The plans would include a major league ball diamond and two football fields, with snack shack and rest room facilities added.

RV Amendment Passes With Protests

With no member of the city council championing their cause, a room full of Placentia recreational vehicle-apparatus owners left the recent city council meeting after council had unanimously approved a resolution amendment they had strongly protested through two meetings.

The decision on the recreational vehicle amendment, which would allow loading days, but which requires fencing in front of some recreational equipment, had been delayed to a second meeting by absence of two of the councilpeople.

At one place in the process, the recent hearing developed into a battle of words between Councilwoman Virginia Farmer and Councilman Donald Holt.

Mrs. Farmer had extolled the virtues of the city's planning commission pointing out that they are responsible citizens and that they do in depth studies.

"Most of the time they are never complimented," Mrs. Farmer stated. "They take a great deal of abuse. They are taxpaying citizens who want to see our city remain a pleasant place.

"If we do not agree with our appointed commissioners then I feel in this instance and in many instances where we would totally reject findings that are carefully researched by the planning commission, we are not utilizing their talents to the best we can."

Holt then pointed out that the planning commission vote on loading hours had been unilaterally deleted by staff with its own recommendation inserted for consideration.

"I agree that we should try to stand behind them (the planning commission)," Holt added. "I don't agree that we should always agree with them anymore than the five of us should agree."

Speaking from the audience during the public hearing, Joe Capraro objected that he can not

School Parents Invited To Inspect Books

Parents in the Placentia Unified School District are invited to look over elementary reading textbooks proposed for next year before they are presented to trustees for final adoption Jan. 10, 1977.

The books, which range from kindergarten to eighth grade levels, are on display in the district Instructional Materials Center, Room 306, 974 S. Melrose St., Placentia, through Jan. 7. Viewing hours are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

Textbooks series up for adoption are Basic Reading Plus from Harper & Row Publishing Co., Reading 720 from Ginn & Company and Series R from MacMillan Publishing Co.

Written comments on the proposed texts are invited. Forms are provided at the Instructional Materials Center.

Fare Tennis Dropped At Tuffree

Fare Tennis did not fare too well in Placentia.

The system which has been supervising tennis nets on the Tuffree Hill Park courts for ten months was unanimously abandoned by city council vote at a recent meeting.

Complaints from members of the Placentia Tennis Club and the public in general revealed that malfunctioning of the system and mechanical problems may have been responsible for some of the disenchantment.

A Fare Tennis, Inc. spokesman stated in correspondence that it was an unfair evaluation, however.

At a previous public meeting before the city's Recreation and Parks Commission it was pointed out that a variety of problems may have developed from the coin operated net system, which required a dollar for an hour's play.

Nets dropped in the midst of play; would not come into place; were too low and sometimes collapsed when a person leaned against them, knocking at least one individual over on his head, it was reported.

The meter company, however, felt the criticisms were too harsh and stated that the system is successful elsewhere and is being considered for additional courts in Los Angeles where it is already in use on 28 courts.

The system, originally installed in Placentia ten months ago was continued after a trial 120 days. The purpose of installing the pay tennis was to provide more expanded use of the facilities, it was pointed out at that time.

This has not happened, city staff reports. In the ten months period the system took in $1,600 of which $800 belongs to the city. However, it was felt that a maximum usage would have produced $4,000. Therefore, the court use had not been expanded as anticipated.

Among complaints were that the pay-tennis has discouraged young people from using the two courts while other reports are that young people had figured out ways to keep the nets up past their dropping time with the use of barrels and other objects.

"The Fare Tennis units tend to foster poor ill will or public relations for the city," a report from the recreation staff relates "Because of the unreliability of the nets, players become upset and irate. Generally the disappointed player does not contact the recreation and maintenance services department to air their complaint, but rather speaks negatively of the city and the tennis court coin operated system when they have lost money in the meter or

Landscaping For Yorba, El Camino Real

Landscaping will be upgraded at Bernardo Yorba Junior High School with a $20,000 allocation and an initial $10,000 landscaping grant has been earmarked for El Camino Real Continuation High School.

PUSD Trustees Monday night approved both expenditures.

Davis-Duhaime Associates will plan the projects for an eight per cent fee. Some of the Yorba work will be accomplished by district crews.

"We plan to add some cement and masonry in certain areas to assist in the control of water runoff. Serious erosion problems are developing at Yorba," it was noted.

Plans for the landscaping are to be presented to trustees by Davis-Duhaime by the end of September.

building on the extension of Chapman Avenue, will probably open in September, 1977 with crossing guard service.

Vehicle counts are already at 270 vehicles per hour with 300 required to insure services of a crossing guard. Child count also is considered.

The new school is opposite the S and S (Shapell) homes and it is anticipated that when the 191 homes are completed, over 100 youngsters will be crossing from the southside of Chapman Avenue.

School staff explained that 58 youngsters are currently being bused from S and S homes to Wagner Elementary School. It was explained that a fully activated traffic signal at a point by the Tynes School would cost in the neighborhood of $40,000.

Tri-City Park Groundbreaking

Company said, however, there may be a slight delay to plan for undergrounding of the utilities at the park. Monies for this extensive project are being approved by the county, he reported.

Forming the necessary undergrounding district needed for that project might delay groundbreaking time, he estimated.

"We've already engineered the job," DeVilbiss reported, "and we're anxious to do it."

The park which will encompass a variety of recreational areas, will be focused around a large and small lake. Acquisition of the property and planning development is into its third year.

Tynes Park

Cost of property for a park adjacent to the John O. Tynes Elementary School, now under construction, has been set at $65,900, the Placentia City Council learned last week. The school, a combined elementary and handicapped-children facility is located north of Chapman Avenue, and east of the Placentia Civic Center. The land under consideration is 3.2 acres.

Aztec Band First Again

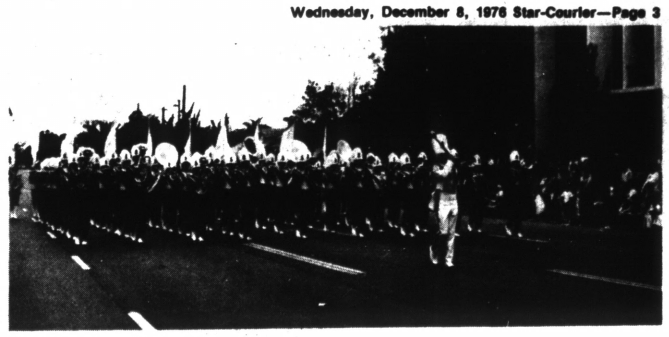
For the second straight year, the Esperanza Aztec Marching Band took a first place trophy in their division with their highest score ever achieved in a parade competition.

This event took place at the Fifth Annual California Band Review hosted by the Santa Ana Winds on Friday, November 26 in Santa Ana. Martin Cantwell, drum major, accepted the trophy for the band.

Also for the second year in a row, the percussion squad was awarded a trophy; this year coming in third place out of 51 other drum sections with a score of 95.0. Mike Whelan represented the squad in accepting the award.

The tall flag corp led by Robbie Cotton came in 4th place. This is the first year that Esperanza is marching tall flags.

Stacy Johnson, the solo baton twirler, won a third place trophy with a score of 91.5.



MORE HONORS were accorded the Esperanza High Marching Band and other school units and individuals at recent competition in Santa Ana.

YOUR Pharmacist SPEAKS
By John Payne, Owner - Reg. Pharmacist
LINDA VISTA PHARMACY
In 1923, tuberculosis killed over 100,000 Americans each year, or almost as many as the entire population of a town such as Cedar Rapids, Iowa! Dr. S.A. Waksman, a Ph.D. who came to this country from Russia in 1910, devoted his life to finding a cure for this dreaded disease.
Dr. Waksman isolated over 10,000 cultures of organisms taken from the soil, looking for the answer. Some were so potent they killed the host animal as well as the disease germs. Finally, he discovered streptomycin. Today, deaths from T.B. are rare.
Courtesy and old-fashioned friendliness are the rule at our modern Prescription Department. People who care about their health appreciate the professional character of LINDA VISTA PHARMACY, where all the extra services cost nothing extra.
HANDY HINT: A discarded hairbrush can be used to remove hair, dirt, etc. from brushes of vacuum cleaner and carpet sweepers.

KATIE'S COLUMN
DOWN ON THE FARM
by Kay Starr

My oldest and youngest sons have been challenging each other to chess and checkers. One is better at chess and prefers that game, while the other is better at checkers and likes to play that. I'm glad that they go back and forth, first playing one then the other. Thank heavens they have matured to the point that they can do that.

As I was preparing dinner, they were playing what I thought was checkers, but when I looked at the board, here was one side set up with chess pieces and the other side with checkers. I never should have asked, but when I did they told me they were playing "cheskers".

The rules are in the making, different every game, and each move requires lengthy consultation as to being legal, etc. It's kind of a neat compromise to their problem of which game to play.

Up, up, and away to Kansas City, Missouri. I thought nothing could surpass our outstanding vacation this summer, and here I am planning to fly with friends in their private airplane from Palm Springs to Kansas City.

We leave Palm Springs bright and early, 5 a.m., and hopefully arrive around 6 p.m. Kansas City time. The pilots tell me it all depends upon weather conditions, wind advantage, fuel stops, and so forth.

I love the idea of flying in a small plane, however it does make for some disadvantages, like limited luggage. Already I've exceeded my limit with the stuff I am taking to hand out.

The total amount for the three of us is 100 pounds of baggage. Boy, am I going to have to learn to travel light in a hurry. I wonder if we could carry extra stuff in a trailer?

Firewood Sale

Boy Scout Troop 99 of Yorba Linda, the oldest troop in the West, is conducting a firewood selling drive as a fund raiser for the troop.

The members have cut down several eucalyptus trees, sawed them into fireplace length and are selling the dried out wood for $85 a cord.

All donations made to this project are tax free. Persons interested in purchasing firewood for the winter months ahead may arrange to do so by calling 528-8984, 528-7086 or 528-3590.

THE MAYOR'S BREAKFAST brought out around 20 people from the Placentia business community last week to discuss mutual problems. However, complaints were few. Discussion centered around egress and ingress to various shopping centers and parking problems. The breakfasts are sponsored by the Placentia Chamber of Commerce. Attending with Mayor George De Jesus [second from the left] were Mayor Pro Tem William Rashford [to the mayor's left] and Councilwoman Virginia Farmer at the far left. Next to Rashford are Ken Little of Pantry Markets and Mary Bette, Fullerton Savings and Loan. The breakfast was held at City Hall.

City Auction In Time For Christmas

Many items suitable for Christmas will be placed on public auction by the city of Placentia.

The Purchasing Department announced that surplus items to be auctioned include bicycles, ten - speeds, tape decks, tools, television sets, jewelry, clothing, a house trailer, four automobiles and miscellaneous items.

The auction will be held Saturday, December 11 at 9 a.m. in the parking lot at City Hall, 401 east Chapman Avenue.

The articles to be sold may be inspected prior to the sale at 8:30 a.m.

Further information is available at the City Hall Purchasing Department, 993-8134.

Kraemer Plans Program

Kraemer Junior High School will present a holiday program on Wednesday, December 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Valencia High School Auditorium. The choral groups, band and orchestra will be performing.

There will be a short PTA meeting before the program and the nominating committee for next years officers will be selected, the PTA reports. Everyone is welcome.

ON CAMPUS

New school resource officer is Placentia Police Officer John Somoya. He is available for talks to all grade levels, as well as counseling on drug information and area crime. He can be reached at the Placentia Police Department, 993-8146.

People without insulation in their attic have something missing upstairs.

Hot air rises. When it rises to an attic with no insulation, the heat just keeps on going. Right out of the house.

Since you're paying good money to heat that air, it doesn't make sense to let it get away.

Proper insulation keeps it inside.

So insulate. And when you do, make sure you do it properly. Ask your insulation contractor or salesman about R-value. R-value is the true measure of resistance to heat flow through insulation.

An R-value of 19 is recommended for homes with both heating and cooling.

Insulation can cut the amount of gas you use for heating by up to 20%. With energy costs steadily going up, this is no time to delay. The quicker you fill in what's missing upstairs, the sooner you'll start saving down below.

Call an insulation contractor or the Gas Company for a free estimate.

YULE PARTY for children will be staged by the Newcomers Club on December 11. Children will get gifts from Santa. Heidi Seltz, Lisa Bills and Mark Seltz are fascinated by the possibilities while Greg Bills previews a toy fire engine.

Twin Moms Mark Xmas

The Northern Orange County Mothers of Twins Club will hold their annual childrens Christmas party Saturday, December 11, between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. The party will be held in the multi-purpose room of Golden Hills Elementary School in Fullerton.

Everyone planning to attend is asked to donate a non-perishable food item (one per child, not to exceed 3 per family) to be given to needy families.

There will be a visit from Santa Claus, who will distribute gifts to the children. Refreshments will be served.

In place of the December 14th meeting there will be a Christmas party. The starting time will be 7 p.m. at the Glendale Federal Savings building, 320 N. Harbor in Fullerto.

Hors d'oeuvres will be at 7 p.m. followed by a progressive dinner and ending with a gift exchange.

Northern Orange M. O.T.C. hold their monthly meetings the second Tuesday of every month at the Glendale Fedetal Savings building 320 N. Harbor, Fullerton. Anyone wanting further information may contact Linda Maxted 821-6907 or Diane Scott 529-0485.

PTA Paper Drive

Richard Nixon Parent-Teacher Association will be having a newspaper drive from now until the close of school on the tenth day of each month.

Newspapers may be left at the lunch tables at the school from 8-8:30 a.m. on the tenth of each month.

Further arrangements may be made by calling the Newspaper Drive Chairman at 528-3733.

Christmas Party For Church Group

All women of the congregation are invited to the Redeemer Lutheran Church Women's Christmas Party Thursday, December 9th at the home of Donna Wesley, 4802 Collins Lane in Yorba Linda.

Special music by the La Quinta High School girls chorus will start promptly at 7 p.m. There will be a gift exchange (home made items or food) and all are invited to participate.

Also, it is suggested that participants bring some canned goods for Lutheran Social Services food cabinet. All women are invited and are encouraged to bring a friend, the group states.

O-G PTA Yule Events

The Orchard-Glenview PTA will provide Santa's Gift Shops at both schools each afternoon now through December 10. Children will be able to purchase gifts for family members and friends costing from 10 cents to $2.50. Special gift shop hours will be arranged for morning kindergarten children.

The children at both schools will be taking part in the Canned Food Drive by bringing in canned food for needy families.

On December 14 the PTA meeting will feature a children's Christmas program at Orchard School at 7:30 p.m. There will also be a Confectioner's Kitchen that evening with plenty of Christmas confections for sale.

LEA MYLES will demonstrate her unusual painting technique for those attending the next meeting of the Placentia Art Association. The presentation will be given at the Backs Building.

Chamber Schedules Open House

The Placentia Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual Christmas Open House for the business community on Thursday, December 16 between the hours of 4 p.m. and 8 p.m.

The party will be held at the Century Federal Savings and Loan at the corner of Kraemer Boulevard and Morse Avenue.

TV Artist To Demonstrate

The Placentia Art Association will holds its December meeting two weeks early because of the Christmas holidays.

The meeting will be held at Backs Community Building 201 N. Bradford, Placentia at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 9. The public is invited.

December's featured artist in the association's lecture-demonstration series is Lea Myles, who will demonstrate "The Magic of The William Alexander Painting Technique." Alexander is the renowned artist featured in the popular television series, "The Magic of Oil Painting."

Mrs. Myles wrote, coordinated and appeared in the series with Alexander, and he has had a strong influence on her artistic life, she explains. Her success on the show has created a demand for her paintings and her unique demonstrations on the wet-on-wet technique.

She will demonstrate this interesting technique at the art association meeting, and will discuss the artistic advantages of her free and easy method of painting.

Mrs. Myles is a versatile, competent artist and a popular teacher whose Bellflower studio has a constant flow of students, both local and out-of-state. Association members look forward to her visit, and encourage interested community members to attend the meeting, the organization states.

For further information, call Program Chairman Larry Tragdon, 524-2814.

Senior Citizens Plan Big Band Dance

The Big Band is back and Les and His Memory Lane Music will be entertaining Senior Citizens at their dance on Thursday, December 16.

The dance will be held at the Backs Community Building from 7 to 10 p.m.

The public is invited to come and dance or just listen to the music, the group reports. Donation for the evening is $1.

"Peggy's Pointers"

I always love this time of the year, as it is a time when I feel especially alive with all the hustle and bustle of Christmas shopping, all the special events of our children's schools, the parties, the cards from friends, and the special warmth that abounds with the high spirits of the holidays.

I especially love decorating my house for Christmas. Being a mother of four children, we have a very "homey" type of Christmas decorating tradition at our house. We always select a tree from the tree farm right after Thanksgiving, and then go home and prepare a place for it in the living room. The house has a gradual transformation from everyday to Christmas. First, the wreath goes up on the door, then garlands up the two stairs, then the tree two weeks before Christmas. As the decorations increase, so does the excitement!

T' Masters

The Yorba Linda Placentia Toastmasters 4325 held their regular bi-monthly dinner meeting at Alta Vista Country Club Tuesday, November 16 with president Jerry Leff, presiding.

Kieth Grimes was the Toastmaster of the evening, Ken Silver the General Evaluator and Al Madeiras the table topics master.

Guests for the evening were Jack Moran, president of the Hillcrest Club 460 of Fullerton and Marianne Hodgkins of the Star/Courier staff.

Speakers for the night were Mike Lackner, Richard Wall and Moran.

The next meeting will be November 30 at 6:45 p.m. at Alta Vista and a debate has been scheduled on the future of the Panama Canal.

Men and women interested in improving their communications skills are always welcome and for more information call 528-7641.

Bill, Teenie Beggerly Feted By Rotarians

Teenie and Bill Beggerly, residents of Placentia since 1958 were lauded recently by the Placentia Rotary Club on the occasion of the Beggerlys 61st wedding anniversary.

The special program for fellow-Rotarian Beggerly and Mrs. Beggerly highlighted events in their married life through slides, music and narration. Many notable community dignitaries and leaders were among the ninety people present.

A standing joke with Beggerly is that everyday is his birthday and whenever he sees a pretty girl (all ages and types qualify), it is only proper that he should have a birthday kiss.

The special dinner meeting tribute to him was no exception.

"I want to apologize to all of you girls in the room I didn't get to," Beggerly began. "If you'll just line up after the meeting you'll get a kiss," he promised.

Senior Citizens

BY MURIEL SUTTON

Our next General Meeting and Potluck will be December 14 at 12:30 p.m. at the United Methodist Church which will be our Christmas dinner. At this time we will be installing our officers of the coming year.

We are privileged to have Al Hutson, President of Orange County Senior Citizens Council, carrying out the installation ceremonies, for the following officers:

Dorothy Wallingsford, president; Glestner Berry, vice president; Gladys Osborne, secretary; Paul Smith, treasurer. Our thanks to Whit Cromwell, our past president, who has guided us in the initial inception of our organization and who will still be around in an advisory position.

This will be a general potluck with the club providing ham and turkey. The program will be presented by the Note-A-Belles under the able direction of Mrs. Froma Reiter. This group was the original PTA Mothers Singers and we know we will be in for a treat as we have heard them previously. They sing for their pleasure and ours.

At this time we want to comment on our last program which was given by Michael and Company, Lori and Michael Rosenberg, who are both very talented. Lori playing the piano and Michael singing, and what a voice for one so young, accompanied by Todd Maurman on the drums.

We need have no qualms of the future if this is a sample of our youth of today. In fact, the seniors gave them a standing ovation.

We wish to acknowledge a check from the Placentia - Yorba Linda Welcome Wagon for $127.50 for which we express many thanks. Since the unfortunate destruction of the Women's Club House we will be meeting in the Casa Loma city owned building just north of the Yorba Linda Junior High School.

Arts and Crafts from 1 to 4 p.m. on Mondays; Fun Night December 15 at 7 p.m. The next Experanza Hospital luncheon December 22, 12 noon. Call Wes Winlund for transportation to senior events.

CREATIVITY of Jan Loomis is exhibited as she makes centerpiece for Littlest Angels Guild of CHOC Christmas party on December 10. Jan is one of the new members who had the centerpiece detail. She was assisted by Vicki Brittain, Kaye Goudey, Marianne Sunderman, Wilma Backer, Beverly Lindy, Betty Jacobson, Midge Madden and Beverly Larson.

Juniors Prize History of Service

Celebrating their 24th birthday this year, members of the Placentia Junior Round Table can look back on over two and a half decades of community service.

For, in 1952 Placentia joined the Orange District California Federation of Women's Clubs, Junior Membership and decided to assist with the development of Kraemer Park as their first project.

Saving proceeds from Ways and Means projects for the first six years, the Juniors finally were able to realize their goal of purchasing the first five pieces of play equipment for the park. Members supported the park project by serving on the Planning Board, and assisted in summer recreational activities. In cooperation with the Round Table, the Juniors also supplied play equipment for McFadden Park.

Other community contributions include the sponsorship of a Teen Canteen, well-baby clinics, Pap-smear clinics, and baby-sitting clinics. Many donations to the Boys Club beginning with a gift of $1,000 toward the building fund in 1964 and additional $450 in 1966. Juniors have worked with the Round Table on their Christmas Clearing Bureau, Amblyopia Clinic and the Rubella Roundup. The Juniors have also attemped to recognize youth by sponsoring such activities as sewing, art, poetry, and Miss Teenage Citizen Contests. They have also given many high school scholarships.

The Placentia Juniors have contributed to such recognized charities as the March of Dimes, the Hope Ship, CARE, Kidney Foundation, CANHC and American Cancer Society. They have actively supported We-tip (We turn in Pushers). Most projects have been oriented toward special needs of the community; as the Juniors were instrumental in starting the Placentia-Yorba Meals on Wheels and watching it grow, co-sponsoring with the Round Table the formation of the Placentia Art Association, and holding monthly Trainable Mentally Retarded (TMR) dances for three years now.

We salute the city of Placentia on its fiftieth birthday. We are glad to be a part of its history and hope through continued community service we can keep it an outstanding "all American city".

Toastmasters Continue Meetings

Toastmasters Centennial Club No. 484 held its bi-weekly meeting with guests Les Sim and Jerry Dagen of Club 37 and Roy Fenstermaker and Bob Jones of Club 3798 attending.

Speaking awards for the evening were earned by Jerry Dagen, Best Evaluator; Roy Fenstermaker Best Speech and Mike Fellon, Best Table Topics.

Toastmasters is a non-profit educational organization. Men and women interested in pursuing a course in public speaking and leadership training should contact either Rene Tijerina at 638-7140 or Rich Weiss at 524-8221.

Guests are welcome at all meetings which are held on the second and fourth Mondays of the month at the Placentia Library.

Christian Women

"Christmas Creations" will be the theme of the Yorba Linda-Placentia Christian Women's Club monthly luncheon on December 13 at 11:45 a.m. at the Alta Vista Country Club, Placentia.

Holiday fashions and decorations, all hand made by the ladies, will be displayed as a special feature.

Bill McKee, author and communicator from Tucson, will be the speaker. Barbara Gibbs, coloraturo soprano, will provide the special music.

Reservations are necessary by 12 noon on December 9. Call 524-6269 or 993-4852. Child care will be available at Yorba Linda Friends Church, 5211 Lakeview, Yorba Linda.

MUSIC FESTIVAL - Mrs. Jermain prepares her third and fourth graders for their part in the upcoming Winter Music Festival at Linda Vista School.

Linda Vista PTA Yule

Linda Vista School students will present a Christmas musical program on Tuesday evening, Dec. 14 at 7 p.m. Their program will be in conjunction with the regular Linda Vista PTA meeting and will be followed by a PTA holiday bake sale.

All sorts of delicious home baked holiday baked goods will be available to help you relax for the Holiday season. Proceeds will be used by the Linda Vista PTA for their various school programs for the students.

The musical program will be presented by the students of the first, second and third grades directed by Mrs. Sheppard, Mrs. Randall, Mrs. Dale, Mrs. Swenson, Mr. Porter, and Mrs. Jermain of the Linda Vista teaching staff. The Linda Vista band will also participate under the direction of Robert Shury.

Van Buren PTA

Tuesday, December 14 the Van Buren PTA will present the annual holiday program. There will be two presentations: the first portion will begin at 6:30 p.m. at which time the kindergarten and first grade students will perform; the second half of the program will be presented at 7:30 p.m. by the second and third graders.

The program has a multicultural air to it and will feature countries being studied presently by the students. The chorus will sing at the end of the first program and at the beginning of the second program.

Bell Choir Has Annual Concert

The Hosanna Bell Choir from the Yorba Linda United Methodist Church will perform their annual Christmas Concert on Sunday, December 19th at 9:45 a.m. The program time falls between the 8:30 and the 11 a.m. church services.

A wide variety of Christmas Carols, especially arranged for English Handbells, will be played by the choir.

Included in the program are favorites such as: "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing", "Fum, Fum, Fum", "Jingle Bells" and many more.

Please plan to attend this Sunday morning concert and share the joy of Christmas as the Hosanna Bell Choir heralds the birthday of the Christ Child, as they "Ring Noel".

CHRISTMAS CREATIONS will be the theme for the Placentia-Yorba Linda Christian Women's Club Fashion Show and Luncheon to be held Monday, December 13 at Alta Vista Country Club. In the picture Jallie [Derry] Ellwood, Sunshine Derry and Carol Derry.

DIANE BAILEY of Yorba Linda, minister-in-training at Anaheim's Church of Christian Living, is holding mid-week services on Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. Soloist at local metaphysical churches for many years, Diane has completed four years of Science of Mind classes, plus two years of ministerial training.

Methodists Plan Christmas

Several special Christmas events were announced this week by the Placentia Valencia United Methodist Church.

On Sunday, December 12 at 9:30 a.m. the adult choir will present a cantata called "The Story of Christmas" by H. Alexander Matthews during the morning service.

Soloists for the presentation will be Susan Ritter, Tish Paulson, Myron Armstrong and Vyron Klassen, with Gloria Hill at the piano and Dave Meyer at the organ.

Also on Sunday, December 12 the Church School will present a Christmas Pageant at 7:30 p.m. in the church sanctuary. The pageant is entitled "The Symbols of Christmas."

The Christmas Sunday Service will be held on December 19 at 9:30 a.m. with the Choraleers and the adult choir singing.

Christmas Eve services will be conducted on Friday, December 24 with an 11:30 p.m. Communion Service.

A Covenant Service will be given on Sunday, December 26 at 9:30 a.m. using a special liturgy fashioned after a service conducted by John Wesley on December 25, 1747, the church reported.

Friends Women

The ladies of Rose Drive Friends Church will hold their annual Christmas party at the church on Thursday, Dec. 9 at 7:30 p.m. Mary Ann Mooney of Fullerton will be the guest speaker.

We will be exchanging homemade gifts again which everyone enjoyed so much last year. There will be Christmas carol singing and refreshments will be served. For more information please call the church at 528-6496.

Choraleers To Sing For Methodists

The Choraleers at the Placentia Valencia United Methodist Church will be singing on Sunday, December 12 at 7:30 p.m. for a church school program; on December 19 for the Christmas Sunday service at 9:30 a.m. and on Christmas Eve at 7:30 p.m. for a special service.

Mrs. Gloria Hill, director of the choir said also that the group's annual Christmas Bake Sale will be held this year on Sunday, December 19. Funds from the sale help support the program.

Classes in Placentia

A new series of classes will be taught by the Assistant Minister, the Reverend Joe V. Stover, of the Christ Church Truth (Unity) of Santa Ana.

These classes will be taught in the Community Room of the Fullerton Savings and Loan Building at 1204 East Yorba Linda Blvd., in Placentia at 7:30 p.m. on the first and third Thursdays of each month.

Classes are open to the public, and are offered on a free will love offering basis

This new series of classes will be based upon Charles Fillmore's book, "The Twelve Powers of Man."

Streets May Be Named For Colonies

The Placentia Bicentennial Committee has recommended to city council that new streets in the city be named after the original 13 colonies, unless a street already bears the name.

The recommendation was forwarded by city council to the street naming committee for its action.

There are streets in Placentia named Virginia Place and Carolina Way.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE TRUSTEE NO. 8230

On December 28, 1976, at 11:00 o'clock A.M. The First American Financial Corporation, a California corporation, as trustee, or successor trustee or substituted trustee, by the certain Deed of Trust executed by: ORVILLE TOLER, an unmarried man, and recorded February 23, 1972 in Book 10011, pages 803 as Document No. 18481 and rerecorded March 20, 1972 in Book 10044 page 751, Document No. 16390 of Official Records of Orange County, California and pursuant to that certain Notice of Default and Election to Sell thereunder recorded August 24, 1976 in Book 11861, Page 1417, Document No. 32113 of Official Records of Orange County, will under and pursuant to said Deed of Trust sell at public auction for cash, lawful money of the United States of America, at the main North entrance to the First American Title Insurance Company building located at the Southwest corner of Fifth and Bush Streets, in the city of Santa Ana, California all that right, title and interest conveyed to and now held by it under said Deed of Trust in the property situated in the County and State described as:

The land referred to in this Guarantee is situated in the State of California, County of Orange, and is described as follows:

The West 649.16 feet (measured from the centerline of the Street adjoining) of Lot 1 in Block 8 of the Yorba Linda Tract, in the city of Yorba Linda, as per map recorded in book 5, pages 17 and 18 of Miscellaneous Maps, in the office of the county recorder of said county.

EXCEPT that portion described as follows:

Beginning at the Northeast corner of said Lot 1; thence along the Easterly line thereof South 33°30' East 662.99 feet; thence on a line parallel with the South line of said Lot 1, South 89°45'00" West 1305.17 feet to the Westerly line of said Lot 1, (being the centerline of a 60 foot Street); thence along the said Westerly line of Lot 1, North 1°37'00" West 659.67 feet to the North line of said Lot 1; thence along said Northerly line of Lot 1, North 89°35'30" East 1324.00 feet to the true point of beginning.

ALSO EXCEPT that portion described as follows:

The South 50.00 feet of the East 40.00 feet of the West 486.00 feet of Lot 1 in Block 8 of the Yorba Linda Tract, in the city of Yorba Linda, as per map recorded in book 5 pages 17 and 18 of Miscellaneous Maps, in the office of the county recorder of said county. The Westerly line of said Lot 1 being considered as the centerline of Palm Avenue (60.00 feet wide).

Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty, expressed or implied, as to the title, possession or encumbrances to satisfy the remaining principal sum due on the note secured by said Deed of Trust to wit: $57,300.00 with interest thereon from July 8, 1975 as provided in said note together with fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and such other sums as may have been advanced by the owner and holder of said note, with interest, as provided in said Deed of Trust.

Christmas Program Set

"A Musical Offering," Fullerton College's annual festive season gift of music to the community, is slated for 8 p.m. Dec. 10 and 11 (Friday and Saturday) in the Campus Theatre.

Admission is free to the Christmas concert featuring the A Cappella Choir, College Choir, Chamber Singers, and College Orchestra. The audience will also become part of the program through the singing of carols.

Music Department instructor Salli Terri, who along with instructors Sheldon Disrud and David Lewis are conducting the performing groups, said "Gloria," a new work by instructor Brent Pierce, will be premiered during "A Musical Offering."

Music by John Biggs of Placentia, a new resident in the North Orange County Community College District, will be performed by the Chamber Singers.

"Child of God," a spiritual arranged by spokesperson Terri, will be sung by the A Cappella Choir; while Antonio Vivaldi's "Gloria" oratorio is to be presented by the combined groups.

Time Capsule Buried In Park

and others taking part in the informal event, made up in enthusiasm what was lacking in numbers.

The big question asked by everyone there was...what's inside the box?

For those unearthing this parcel in 50 years it includes, for one thing, a number of local and area newspapers with the special 50th Birthday issue of The Placentia Courier on the list. There are telephone books, several city maps, an All America City Flag and a 1976 penny.

That's just a start of approximately 50 items.

There is a letter from Mayor Pro Tem William Rashford to the City Council of 2026; the proclamation of the present city council recognizing the 50th anniversary of the city; the 1988 General Plan for the city and an area inventory of land parcels supplied by the Southern California Edison Company.

Also, the city's 1976-77 budget and the Capital Improvement Element; the city council packet for November 16, 1976 of backup material distributed normally to councilmen and the press.

There are samples of city stationery; a list of city employees; a copy of the invitation of the Civic Center Dedication; the dedication brochure; the 1976 Recreation Winter Program; and ten Bicentennial medallions.

Also, All America seals, patches and bumper stickers; the All American City presentation; the Chamber of Commerce Directory; the 1975-76 Annual Report of the city of Placentia and a sample ballot for the April, 1976 municipal Election.

Two bus schedules, a copy of the book, "Placentia Around The World" by Vic Michel; a copy of an Italian newspaper from Piacenza, Italy containing an article from the city of Placentia. A Home Buyers Guide; Newsweek Magazine; Social Services Directory; a report on the State of Orange County 1976 by the Board of Supervisors.

Other items: the certificate of official recognition of the city as a Bicentennial Community; a McDonald's coupon good until January, 2027 and a photograph of the current price board; a packet of information about Placentia provided by the Chamber of Commerce and a packet of materials from the Girl Scouts.

Also, a reproduced copy of the March 22, 1912 Placentia Courier provided by the library; employment bulletin from the city; material pertaining to the 40-hour work week; a tape recording of contemporary music and advertising material for the Heritage Festival.

A Freeway map of Southern California; civil defense pamphlet on earth quakes, the medallion proof set and an invitation to the 50th anniversary city council meeting. Also a booklet of Civic Center pictures provided by the library and the first city council minutes of December 7, 1926. A letter also carries the special 50th anniversary stamp cancellation from the post office.

Anyone with second thoughts or timely last minute suggestions is out of luck. The time capsule is impressively secured beneath the ground.

SEALED TIGHT against the elements, the city's Time Capsule, to stay underground for 50 years is locked up by Jack Slota, assistant to the city administrator. Items of interest, rather than of monetary value, were placed in the capsule.

Larry McKnight Honored

Placentia resident Larry E. McKnight was recently honored as a Fellow of the national organization of American Society for Metals. McKnight, one of the youngest men ever to be named a Fellow by the organization, received the honor at a banquet held at the culmination of a three day Tri Engineering convention in Cleveland, Ohio.

Larry McKnight was elected for his development of unique measurement devices and instrumental controls for nondestructive testing of metals, for improvements in manufacturing techniques for powder metallurgy, high temperature alloys, for ceramic coatings on steels, and for electrolytic treatment of solid metals, also for his active participation in the local California American Society for Metals.

McKnight graduated from the University of Washington in Seattle in 1960, with a B. S. Degree in Metallurgy. He is self employed as a Consulting Metallurgical Engineer, his office is located in the materials Science Center in Newport Beach.

His wife Kathy is a member of the Placentia Library District Board of Trustees. They have three children Michael, Mark and Julie. Mrs. McKnight accompanied her husband to the convention. Following their trip to Ohio they flew to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands on a business trip.

RV Changes Approved

under the amendment leave his boat in his driveway, that it is too wide to go through to the backyard and cannot be housed in his garage.

"This ordinance doesn't provide anything that gives a boat owner or a trailer owner any consieration whatsoever. I find it to be quite unfair, in fact highly discriminatory against boat owners and trailer owners," Capraro testified.

Capraro said that he was one of two homeowners who had been singled out by City Attorney Charles Post III for a possible misdemeanor complaint.

"When I asked Mr. Post why I had been singled out as one of the recipients of this letter, he could not give me an answer," Capraro added.

When speakers queried the city council as to why the persons desiring the recreational vehicle ordinance had not appeared in numbers to talk, Mayor George De Jesus stated: "For every owner of a recreational vehicle I can assure you that there are at least three people who object to it...a neighbor on each side and one across the street.

No documentation as to numbers was submitted by the mayor during the proceedings, however.

The mayor continued: "We do not have the size staff who can run around the city putting out the fires, looking for this problem. This was instigated by citizens who asked to have something done about it."

Mayor Pro Tem William Rashford also praised the planning commission. "I think on this particular item we have to watch to be particularly prudent to the testimony of the planning commission."

Councilman Donald Holt who appeared to favor rewriting the amendment to include wordage from the Turlock, Calif. ordinance was discouraged in the pursuit by other members of the council who found the changes too many to be absorbed without a rewriting and rehearing.

Holt's suggestions appeared in instances to be more stringent than those under consideration.

The staff report on the amendment pointed out that boat and trailer owners who may not park their recreational apparatus in their driveways, have no place in the city to pay to park them. Parking spaces in lots in other cities cost from $10 a month to $17.50 a month depending on size.

The amendment passed establishes a legal loading period; requires screening for recreational vehicles parked behind the required setback and allows motor vehicles to park on driveways in sideyards adjacent to a street and makes some consideration for corner lots.

the nets are not working properly or some malfunction occurs while they are playing," it was explained.

A statement by Ralph W. Irwin, president of Fare Tennis, Inc. pointed out that most tennis players are against pay tennis as it has always been free. 'The last five months at Tuffree Park I can say our equipment has operated very efficiently...except in a few cases of vandalism. People have caused at least 90 per cent of the equipment malfunction during this period," the letter states.

Parents Seek Crossing Guard

police department, is responsible for the hiring of crossing guards. Since the city is responsible for the hiring, interviewing and dismissing them, the school board would not become involved in any way except to identify the need," McClanahan answered.

Among others speaking in favor of the guard were Mrs. Joan Sammons; Mrs. Eileen Hunt, PTA Council president; Mrs. Bonnie Steele and Mrs. Jenny Wong, who pointed out that she drove through this intersection regularly and had seen the confusion of the children.

Local attorney George Bean stated that he tended to distrust the standards set by Cal Trans (from whom the standards are taken for streets to qualify for crossing guards,) "having had occasion to view their experiments with the Diamond Lanes."

George Oeklers added that he had found it difficult to walk across the Bastanchury-Kraemer intersection before the light turns red. "The 45 seconds seems like about 10."

City Administrator Edwin Powell stated that crossing guards are the city's responsibility. "It is not the responsibility of the school board by law," he added.

Councilman Jack Gomez recommended a further look at the crossing guard policy. "I think we should treat every corner the same, not just this one, but everyone."

Mayor George De Jesus concluded that "when one makes a decision of this type that we are being backed into a very embarrassing corner. I wonder why the PTA group did not make some singular effort to do something about the situation other than to come back to the city.

"At that time you must have recognized that we did not have the money. We extended ourselves to give 60 days."

The city council vote was unanimous in favor of a permanent crossing guard at the intersection and the word was received by the audience with applause.

In a letter to the city from John O. Tynes, superintendent of schools of the Placentia Unified School District, Tynes points out the the "county (legal) counsel ruled a year ago that police resource officers and crossing guards are a function of the Police Department and school monies cannot be expended for this purose."

Van Buren PTA Events

The Van Buren PTA conducted a canned goods drive the last two weeks of November to help any needy families in the area for the holidays.

A bookfair was held November 16-18 at the school, as well as a paper drive December 1. Profits from the fund raisers of the PTA are donated to the school.

Van Buren School has already been able to purchase some audio-visual equipment and have learning materials printed from donations presented by the PTA.

The PTA board wishes to thank the parents and the community for their support in each and every way; it is the cooperation of everyone that creates a successful and harmonious environment.

IT WAS LADIES DAY at the Placentia Senior Citizens Club last week when new officers were elected and installed. Guild Seeks Members

The Placentia Guild of the North Orange County Child Guidance Center will hold its first meeting on December 9th at 8 p.m. at the home of Mary Ziegler, 606 Cooper, Placentia.

Charter memberships are available to any interested people in the Placentia - Yorba Linda-Brea area.

The purpose of the Guild is to foster interest among its members and in the community in the work of the North Orange Countly Child Guidance Center and to provide financial support to the Placentia Center.

The Placentia Center, located at 2137 N. Kraemer Blvd., is under the directorship of Hank Paris and is dedicated to improve the mental health of the community and is devoted to treating children with emotional, behavioral, educational or neurological difficulties.

For further information concerning the Guild, please call Barbara Reed, 993-2168 or Tryna Morton, 528-2707.

Morse Drive Turns Papers Into Books

A paper drive sponsored by the Morse Avenue Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association will be held on Saturday, December 11 from 9 a.m. to noon in the school parking lot.

The PTA has scheduled paper drives every month for the convenience of the Morse community. In the interest of ecology, Morse residents are urged to begin or to continue a regular program of saving all newspapers.

Sheron Kenton, ways and means chairman, has announced that proceeds from paper drives will be used to purchase books for the Morse library.

Kiwis Plan Christmas Celebration

The Anaheim Chapter of the Kiwi Club will hold a combined Christmas social and Business Meeting at the home of Mrs. Warren Hail of Westminster, Thursday evening, December 9th at 7:30 p.m.

Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Don Creighton, Cypress, Mrs. Chuck Coronado, Cypress and Mrs. William Lindsay, Yorba Linda.

After the Business Meeting, Kiwi's will exchange Christmas gifts. Kiwis are former American Airline Flight Attendants from the Long Beach, Orange County and Riverside areas. Anyone eligible and interested in joining the club is invited to contact membership chairman Mrs. J.A. Williams, Placentia, phone: 524-8244.

Girls Win Prizes At Doll Fair

Winners at the Tenth Annual Goodwill Industries' Doll Fair held recently in Santa Ana, included Kelly McQuade of Placentia and Julie Smith and Tammy Warehime of Yorba Linda.

They were among hundreds of Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, 4-H Girls, and National Charity League Tick Tockers from all over Orange County who checked out Goodwill dolls, fashioned new clothes for them, styled their hair, and returned them to Goodwill Industries for sale at the Doll Fair.

The judging was based on originality, sewing skills, appearance, costume completion, and suitability of design, fabric and fit.

Courier Keeps The Record For 66 Years

By Virginia Carpenter

When Albert S. Bradford founded the town of Placentia in 1910, he felt that he needed a paper to publicize it and to carry the new stores' ads. So he persuaded a printer, C.E. Knudsen, to set up a small job press back of the Marjue building on Santa Fe Street. Knudsen began to distribute a 4-page tabloid and when the post office reopened the next year, he obtained a second class mailing permit on August 29. From that date he published a regular weekly paper, calling it The Courier. Joachim Queyrel claimed to be the first subscriber.

C.B. Langley is mentioned once as an early editor, but in 1916, W.L. Rideout came from Clear Lake and bought the paper. He moved it to the building on the south side of Santa Fe later occupied by Snell's general store. Ollie Snell was his daughter. He also installed the first linotype machine and other equipment.

In 1921, because of ill-health, he sold the Courier to Lisle Morehous and went to Big Bear. Morehous bought a large model 14 linotype with three fonts of matrices, electric metal pot etc., he also moved the plant to 238 Bradford Ave. in the Kraemer building and edited the paper through the hectic days of the oil boom in the early 1920s.

At that time, Col. Henry R. Honey, a Kansas editor and Democrat, living in Yorba Linda, bought the Olive Sentinel. In 1925 he sold that paper to Frank Rospaw, also from Kansas, saying it was too small to make money. He then bought the Courier from Morehous. Neil W. McClure was his partner until 1926 when they separated, leaving Honey as sole owner. He promoted a contest for subscriptions, "the biggest thing undertaken by an Orange County weekly newspaper, it put Placentia on the map." First prize was an Essex car. He wielded a trenchant pen, (to quote) through the incorporation of the city and the bond elections for the Sanitary District.

There was such a flood in February, 1927, that the linotype operator could not get to work. Honey appealed to the Rospaws who had bought the Yorba Linda Star in 1923 and they printed the week's paper. That year the Courier moved again, to 129 Santa Fe St. in the Stradley block, opposite the post office.

In May 1928, Honey sold to C.E. Perdew of Iowa and wrote his farewell editorial. Perdew made the paper standard size and bought a web type cylinder press in LaJolla. They were using a flat-bed press. He was nominated a director of the Chamber of Commerce, but personal affairs made it necessary for him to return to Iowa, so he sold after only six weeks.

Meanwhile, Frank Rospaw had sold the Yorba Linda Star to Charles Vernon and left on a trip east. When he returned, he bought the Courier in July and then the Cober house on Bradford and Orange Grove in the Fuller Tract. He moved the paper back to the Kraemer building in 1933 and bought a Cottrell cylinder press, type, make-up stones and more equipment.

The paper was a family affair, as Mrs. Rospaw was business manager as well as reporter and Frank's brother, R.L. Rospaw was in charge of the mechanical department. They did a good deal of job printing and commercial work and published a number of books by local authors. Faustina Nenno's history of the Round Table Club and some of Ethel Jacobsen's books of poetry, among others. The Courier also printed the California Federation of Women's Clubs News. To do a better job with this, Rospaw, in 1935, installed the latest Miller Simplex automatic press. It turned out four-color covers for the magazine and was considered the largest and best press in the county. In 1934 the Courier celebrated its 24th year, beginning #24 of Volume 1.

The next year, on November 29, 1935 Rospaw issued an elaborate SILVER ANNIVERSARY EDITION OF THE PLACENTIA COURIER 1910-1935. Depicting Twenty-five Years of Progress in the Heart of the Valencia Orange District Placentia, Orange County, California. Containing 52 pages, this is still the most complete history of the town, covering nearly all developments.

Quite a number of residents were employed, including Mrs. Lewis Edwardson and Mrs. Effie Cline for news; Mrs. Theo Meisenheimer for advertising; A.C. Peck on the linotype with Arthur Tice and Milo Harrison. Harold Judd was out in the summer of 1935 because of an auto accident. In the bindery were Mrs. Ethel Charlton, Leon Hochstein and Donald Edwardson; Miss Mae Smith took care of mailing and subscriptions. The plant had many visitors, including school classes.

The Courier promoted all local interests and activities through the grim days of the Depression and World War II. They continued until Frank became ill, then Mrs. Rospaw carried on and their son, Cecil returned from overseas duty and became editor in 1957. Both the Rospaws died. Some time in these years the paper made its next-to-the-last move---to the southeast corner of Santa Fe and Mail Streets, where it remained for many years.

Finally, in 1973 Cecil sold to Edward Kelly of San Diego, who also bought the Yorba Linda Star from William Drake, who succeeded Val Lucas. This was the first time the two papers were under one ownership. Two years later, in the fall of 1975, Jane and Robert Caswell bought the two papers, with Jane becoming publisher.

Betty Mead is now editor of the Courier. It has converted from the old "hot type" to the clearer offset printing. The Courier is still a strictly local paper with "all the news" of Placentia and it is proud of the fact that it is going strong after 66 years and that it has never missed an issue.

OLDEST COURIER--this is a reproduction of a 1912 Placentia Courier, as far as is known, the oldest Courier in existence. The paper, however, was established before this time.

Whispers

In the early twenties, at a masquerade party at Newport Beach, young Ernest Pierotti came off with all the honors. I'll never forget him, though I was only a kid in grammar school. Visualize Ernie as a cannibal; six feet and six inches tall, slender, black, wearing nothing but a grass skirt, large rings in his ears, and a bone tied to an old something that hung around his neck. Congratulations! Ernie [also known as "Hi].

ESPERANZA HIGH

Dancing to the sounds of Primo under the theme of "Mistletoe and Holly" at the Quality Inn in Anaheim, the Christmas formal will once again be sponsored by the Girl's Athletics Association.

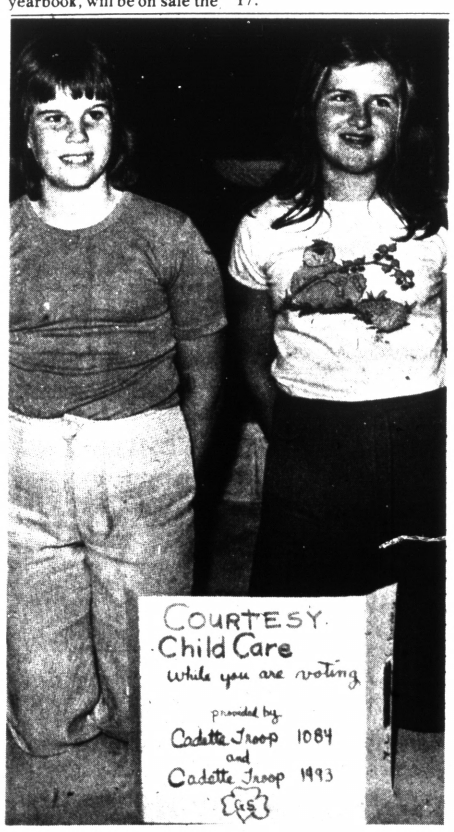
Monday, Dec. 20 from eight to midnight will include dancing, pictures by Albert and James, refreshments and fun. Tickets will be on sale for eight dollars from December 6 to 17.

The student council of Esperanza will sponsor a "canned food drive" for Christmas. The proceeds will be given to chosen needy families in the community.

Quetzal, Esperanza's yearbook, will be on sale the week of December 6 for the price of $12.

In time for Christmas, gift-giving stationery is now being sold by C.S.F. members. Greeting cards, calendars, and Christmas cards and notes are included in the selection of reasonable priced stationery being sold to raise money for Esperanza's membership in the California Scholarship Federation.

Continuing in their money-raising effort, the senior class will sell Christmas candygrams from Dec. 13 to 17. The candygrams include messages and candy for the price of 75 cents and will be delivered on Friday, Dec. 17.



SERVICE FOR VOTERS--Cadette Troops 1084 and 1493 provided child care assistance for voters in the recent election. Robyn Kavanaugh, left, and Deanna Gillian of Troop 1493 advertise their service at the Yorba Linda Library.

VOL. 1 PLACENTIA, CALIFORNIA, MARCH 22, 1912 NO. 31

Placentia District, California's Garden

The Opportunities of a Section are read in the acheivements of the men who made it:

PLACENTIA—NEW DOORWAY TO WORLD'S GREATEST ORANGE EMPIRE.

TRIBUTES TO TWO HISTORIC CHARACTERS—WILLIAM M. McFADDEN AND WIFE, AND THEIR SON, CLARENCE E. McFADDEN, SPECIALIST IN ORANGE CULTURE AND FUMIGATION, AND ORANGE COUNTY MANAGER OF RANDOLPH FRUIT CO.

GEORGE B. KEY, ONE OF THE BUILDERS OF PLACENTIA DISTRICT. ALSO PROMINENT IN SCHOOL, Y. M. C. A. AND CHURCH WORK.

Home and Investment Seekers:

The Courier wants to tell you a few things about the town and district of Placentia, also about some of the citizens who have made or are making this nature-favored section of California.

Climate and Health

The glory of this little kingdom of oranges is our exquisite all-the-year-'round climate, a climate where the varied product of the soil pushes money into your purse and heals your ailments, financial, or physical alike. Indeed, so strength-giving is our climate—or rather climates—that if you come out here a delicate woman you'll soon be able to whip your husband.

The leading features that have contributed to the remarkable growth of this region are our flawless skies, prolific soil and peerless location.

Placentia District is in the bonanza orange belt of Southern California and the district is pierced daily on our trans-continental line and by an electric line that closely links it with Los Angeles.

Town of Placentia

Placentia is so young that it has not yet found a place on the State map. It is but slightly over a year old, is an infant, but an infant Hercules.

Since born four-fifths of the lots in its townsite have been sold and all its lots have since enhanced in value 35%.

All branches of merchandising are represented here but a dry goods store, and this is

Our Greatest Mercantile Need.

During the town's existence its leading shipments have been citrus fruits, oranges for the most part, but a great diversity of farm products besides.

But Placentia will with a few weeks become an Important Oil Pipe Terminal,

and will handle daily some 15 cars.

The town is not yet incorporated and it is not in debt.

Placentia has broken all records of all Southern California towns of equal age in the orange belt, for increase in population and in increase of land values. And yet it is just entering on the period of its greatest growths.

In Placentia Town and district money intelligently invested grows fast, where manhood and womanhood rapidly expand, and where the energy of our people sets the spine a tingling.

Come and partake of the prosperity of this town and district. Go to the Santa Fe depot in Los Angeles and in a few minutes you are in Placentia.

Wm. M. McFadden was one of five American citizens, who some 40 years ago fearlessly brought the torch of civilization into this then crude, benighted country.

His sturdy, stalwart form and intrepid spirit made him the typical pioneer, but his robust cultured mind made him more than this to the community. It made him an evangel of education.

Quite naturally such a man should become the first American school teacher in this section. He taught for 10 years in Yorba, our only school then, and among his pupils were Samuel and Benjamin Kraemer and many of the most prominent and useful citizens of the Orange county of today.

It was he who first gave the first great impulse to the higher intellectual life of the community by chiseling off the rough corners of the crude, frontier conditions that then obtained here.

He was a giant power also in stimulating the material unfoldment of this region.

Mr. McFadden embarked from New York, via Panama, for California in 1864. Taught school for four years in Alameda county. Then came to this vicinity, but during a portion of the time that he lived here he served as school superintendent for Los Angeles county, and conducted the first Teachers' Institute that was held in that county. He was president of the Orange county Board of Education. Was president of our High School Board, and superintended the construction of the Fullerton Union High School.

In 1869 he settled on the ranch so well known to us all as "The McFadden Homestead," and commenced his horticultural experience, where he lived until the inevitable end.

It was on this place, and by him, that the second oranges were grown in this now famous district. It was he who converted a wild mustard patch here into one of the finest or-

Mr. McFadden has specialized in orange growing and in how to keep our groves free from pests.

He has devoted his entire time to fumigating for the last six years, and enviable the reputation he has earned meantime in treating trees so as to preserve their healthfulness and to insure their greatest possible yield.

Mr. McFadden has made a practical study of the fumigating business practically all of his life, and has studied it from every angle. For 15 years, prior to embarking in it as a business, he did the fumigating on the old homestead.

He has invented and perfected several patents pertaining to the fumigating business, foremost among them being his commissary wagon and tent-lifting appliance, which so facilitates the work that five men can now handle from 25 to 50 tents or from 250 to 500 trees in ten hours, or can do from four to eight times as much as before these appliances were introduced.

Mr. McFadden has also perfected a new dip for the tents which saves 25 per cent of the material ordinarily used in fumigating.

During the fumigating season he employs from 15 to 20 men, has a daily capacity of 1700 trees, the average cost per tree being about 35 cents.

Most of the fumigating is done during the months of August, September, October, November and December, but it can be done at all times, until the young fruit sets and for 3½ months thereafter.

The McFadden methods of fumigation have been favorably described in U. S. Government publications, and several eminent specialists—State and Federal—have come to confer with him about the most effective way to eradicate scale pests and about parasites. Professor Woglum from the U. S. Government Prof. Morrill of Florida, Prof. Mackew, and Prof. Woodruff of the State University, among others.

Mr. McFadden will soon have a

Field Partner In Fumigating

in a practical, up-to-date man who thoroughly understands every detail of the business.

He expects to shortly enlarge his fumigating plant and make several down-to-the-second improvements.

Mr. McFadden is now

In Charge Randolph Fruit Co.

in Orange county, the largest independent shippers outside of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, in the state, and his time henceforth will be almost exclusively devoted to their interests. Placentia will be his headquarters, in his new capacity.

Mr. McFadden owns a 27½ acre ranch, 3½ miles east of his home, planted to Valencia and navel orange trees, two years old.

He has a sixth interest in the McFadden estate on Placentia avenue, 53 acres dense with golden fruit, and radiant in modern improvements.

He has 20 acres, adjoining his 27½ acre ranch, taken on contract, and with 15 acres in Valencia and five acres in navel orange trees, two years old, June next, a tract than which none has made a better showing in the same time. This land when set to trees was valued at $250 an acre, but eight months thereafter

Now for a little chat about Mr. George B. Key and his splendid orange grove.

Mr. Key is a pioneer of the Placentia district of nearly 19 years standing. And all during the years that he has lived here he has been an active and effective force in developing this section, not only into a little Eden of fruit but into a homeland which has been far advanced morally, educationally and religiously, largely through his influence and efforts.

Southern California has been the home of Mr. Key for thirty years, and, since fruit tree culture has enthusiastically engrossed his attention all of this time, nine years as a nursery man in Pasadena, and all the years since as an orange grower in Placentia district, he is credited, far and wide, as having done incalculable work in developing the fruit industry in our Southland, and especially in Placentia district.

His home place is on North Placentia Avenue, two and one-half miles north and west of the town of Placentia, where he has lived since 1894, and a more model 20-acre orange ranch than his one will not find in all California.

Mr. Key had no sooner located in these parts than opportunity knocked at his door, and it found him on the job, so much so that he has these many years been one of our most strong and substantial men, and one now safely anchored against financial adversity, and he and his live in a mansion-like house, surrounded by [illegible]

Richwood, Ontario Province, Canada, was the birthplace of Mr. Key, and June 5, 1851 his birth date.

For 28 years he stayed and shivered in his native land. He thought it time then to go somewhere and then out. Landing in Pasadena he made that city his home for nine years. Thence removed to San Fernando valley, where he ranched for four years. Then in April, 1893, he removed to Placentia district, and for the first seven years here he was superintendent of the Semi-Tropical Fruit Company's ranch.

He then, purchased his present ranch, in what he and thousands of others think is California's greatest little orange kingdom.

Mr. Key has been an active and forceful member of the Fullerton School District Board for six or seven terms, and he has and is working with heart and soul aglow for the mental and moral enrichment of the coming generation.

He is an elder of the Presbyterian church in Fullerton, and is the chairman of the Orange County Young Men's Christian Association.

He was formerly an energetic member of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce.

Now, however, Mr. Key is a member of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce, and no call is made on him by this body of boosters to help in pushing a worthy movement along, in vain.

He believes in unison of action in all measures for the common good should be the slogan of the people of this district, and that the sooner all of our neighboring communities cooperate in efforts to build up all this section the better it will be for each. Community of interests and common sense demand this, is his opinion.

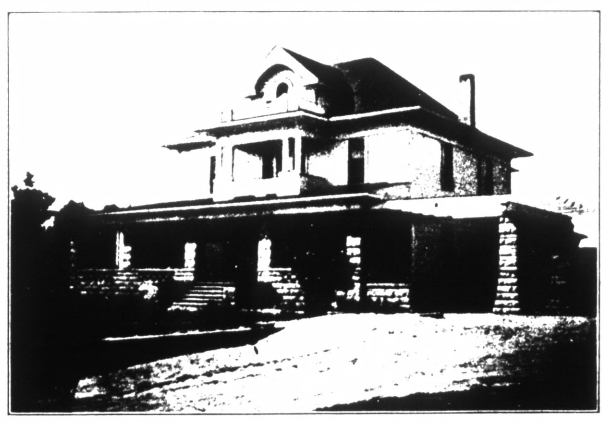
Mr. Key dropped gracefully into the responsibilities of married life on December 29, 1886, when Miss Mary F. Wright of Pasadena, but a native of Arkansas, became his bride, a woman who has ever since been the guiding light of her husband, and has done her part in making their home a model for Christian householders.

Eight children have been given to them, two boys and six girls, all living. They are: Barbara Pauline, Sarah Elizabeth, Mary Frances, Margaret Louise, William Amos, George Gillman, Alice Roberta and Dorothy.

Mr. Key is a member of the Independent Order of Forresters.

Politically he is a Progressive Republican, and of the sort that stands firmly on both feet and "four square to every wind that blows."

An up and doing twentieth century American citizen is George B. Key, a man who has played a masterful part in the making of Placentia district, a citizen who shares the implicit confidence and deep respect of the thousands of our citizens who know him best. A desire glows in his breast as much for the moral, mental and spiritual uplift of our district as for their material advancement.



HOME OF GEO. B. KEY.

JAMES W. NEWELL, ENDORSED BY MANY PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS FOR ASSEMBLYMAN—A PEEP AT HIM AND HIS PALM VIEW RANCH.

The Progressive Republicans of the northern part of Orange county have endorsed James W. Newell, of Placentia district for assemblyman. And quite naturally there should be a predominant sentiment for his candidacy in this community—his home—because of his conceded ability and because of local pride.

The ambition to be an assemblyman is honorable to every man who cherishes it, and the Courier is glad to see a man who has so conspicuously made good aspire to this office.

If nominated Mr. Newell will be elected, because he is, politically, of the right shade to suit a majority of the people of this community, being a Progressive Republican of the most pronounced type, one who stands for principles that the enlightened thought of the day demands, and especially does he stand for many things that this county wants.

One thing is certain "Big Business" could not guile or trap him in their squeezie hands. He would not be a minion of corporations but a law maker for all the people, all of the time. And as he is clean, able, constructive, level-headed and politically honest he, as assemblyman, would be the right man in the right place at this critical political reformation period in California. And Mr. Newell is just at the age of greatest power and usefulness to the State.

Since a resident of this district he has always shown himself public spirited and courageous in his convictions.

Although endorsed for this office by his fellow citizens only two weeks ago sentiment, favorably to his candidacy is fast crystalizing.

A self-made man, a self-educated man of vast and diversified knowledge, Mr. Newell also has high cultural attainments, is a splendid busi-

Midget Aztecs Slug Out Victory

It was a cold, blustery evening last Saturday, but not for the Aztec football team as they defeated the Santa Ana Rookies 8-0 at Brea High School to capture the Orange Empire Conference championship of Pop Warner football in the Midget division.

This victory was the end of a stretch run that carried the Aztecs through six games and a tie-breaker to win the conference title. The Rookies were the only team left in the championship playoffs that had a regular season victory over the Blue and Silver, a 20-7 win on the first game of the season in September. However, the Aztecs would not be denied this time.

It was a typical Aztec performance in the first half as the Rookies did everything but cross the goal line on the Aztecs. The team from Santa Ana moved the ball up and down the field at will and it appeared that they would run the Blue and Silver off the field.

The turning point in the game occurred late in the first half when the Rookies had 4th and 6 inches at the Aztec goal line. At this point the Aztec defensive unit rose up and stopped the Rookies charge and denied the score.

The Blue and Silver then took over and drove out to their own 31 yard line as the half ended. It was then that the Big Blue knew that they could stop the bigger Rookie team and could move the ball on them.

As the second half began the Aztecs took the opening kickoff and got back to their own 24 yard line. With fullback Ralph Clemmer slamming away inside and fleet-footed Bill Watroba going outside the Aztecs moved down field to the Rookie 19 from where Watroba went over for an apparent score, but the TD was called back.

It remained for the Aztecs to do it again. Finally, as the final period began, Ron Benedict circled left end and scored from 17 yards out. Benedict also added the extra point with a perfect kick to make the score 8-0. The Aztecs scored twice more, but both were called back for holding penalties.

Meanwhile, the Aztec defense was magnificent as they completely shut off the high powered, explosive Rookie running game and forced the Rookies to pass which they did not do very well. The entire Aztec defensive unit must be given credit for the shutdown of the Rookies offense.

The Aztec offense really moved well during the entire second half with huge holes being opened by the offensive line and hard running by the backs. Perhaps the greatest surprise to the Rookies was the running of Clemmer who ripped off huge gains time after time in the Rookie line.

The entire coaching staff of the Aztecs were extremely proud of the whole Aztec team as they had a job to do and did it very well against a much bigger team. It was a complete team effort and every Aztec should be very proud of their performance.

Here is the Aztec team that charged from 7th place after three weeks of the season to the Conference title:

Tigers In CIF Finals

Valencia qualified for CIF finals along with Buena Park and El Dorado.

Placing among the top five schools at the semi final cross country meet, VHS competed at the semi-final cross country meet Sat., Dec. 4 at Mount San Antonio College.

Along with the top five teams in each heat qualifying for the finals five individuals also competed in the race representing their school.

Bulletin Board Contest

"Calfornia Christmas" will be the theme for this year's bulletin board contest, sponsored by Quill and Scroll, Valencia's journalism honorary.

Members of the club who will act as judges are Regina Ashie, Roger Kaplan, Brian Leon, Jeanette Roberts, and Ann Swanson.

Based on originality and artistic quality, the bulletin board capturing sweepstakes will be photographed for local newspapers.

Tigers Honored

Six Valencia Tigers were honored as league awards for football and water polo were released.

Two waterpolo players received honorable mention for their quality during Orange league play, Chip Reiter for his second year in a row and his work as holeman, and his brother Karl for his job as goalie.

A unanimous decision went to Mino Rodriquez who took the top billing in league first team offensive back. Donny Moreno, succeeded in making second team offensive back.

Church Builds Gym, Athletic Field

Rose Drive Friends Church is grading and preparing property for Yorba Linda's first church-owned gymnasium and athletic field.

The congregation purchased the 4-acre parcel on Bastanchury Road adjacent to the church for the proposed recreational facility. Richard Page, a member of the church, is heading up grading of the new property.

"Its's exciting to see our dream coming true," is a typical comment on Sundays. With a sparkle in their eyes church members point to various locations for the future facilities.

In the center will go the new gym and classroom building with a lighted athletic field on one side and additional parking on the other.

Athletics serve as an important part of the church's program. In addition to wholesome recreation they provide an opportunity for building friendships and attracting new people to the fellowship.

The people have talked, dreamed and prayed about a gym since the inception of the church 14 years ago.

The big blade and mammoth earthmoving equipment of Page came into good use in moving huge mounds of dirt. With artistic precision he and helper Marc Morgan transformed an unattractive gulley into a future athletic field.

Cutting, filling and compacting, their big machines formed a large ball diamond with sloping banks for natural bleachers.

The proposed gymnasium/Christian Education building will provide multiple use for various church activities. A spacious kitchen will make possible large church dinners. A special dining room for smaller groups will add to the flexibility.

Almost all of the space will transform into classrooms for Sunday morning and Wednesday night use. In fact, the Christian Education rooms in the complex exceed the gym floor space.

Rose Drive Friends Church hopes to begin actual construction on the half million dollar project by early spring. The additional space will fill a genuine need at the growing church.

Already the overflowing 9:30 a.m. Bible Study Hour/Sunday School is using classrooms at Rose Drive Elementary School until the new building is completed.

EARTHMOVER—Heavy equipment levels land at Rose Drive Friends Church in Yorba Linda as half million dollar expansion program begins. A combination gymnasium and education building, plus an athletic field will be constructed.

Whispers

A favorite story of Adolph Koch's was of Ethel Chapman [Mrs. Wm. Wickett] and Helen Gilman [Mrs. Winthrop Bowen] after the turn of the century. They, horseback, and dressed in western attire, used to meet the train a few miles east of Placentia where they raced it into town--that is, as long as they could keep pace. The young ladies, their tresses flowing in the wind, shot their guns and put on a regular show for the Easterners who, along with the engineers, waved and applauded.

Today Helen Bowen says, "Our parents didn't know what we were up to. But those guns were only cap pistols."

Peg Bowen

Mrs. Kathleen Peelor Tuffree remembers the time, about a decade after the turn of the century, when Willie Key [Dr. Wm. A. Key, brother of George Key] gallantly stepped out of the horse-drawn school bus to help the girls out. But, stepping back too far, he accidentally splashed into the large irrigation canal and was sucked through the concrete culvert under Chapman Avenue before the mad scramble of the rescue took place.

Scout Show Saturday

One hundred and ten thousand tickets is the sales goal for the Orange County Council, Boy Scouts of America Scout-O-Rama '76. Thousands of Cubs and Scouts are selling tickets, competing for a bevy of prizes in individual dens and patrols.

In spite of inflation, tickets are still $1 and, as an added incentive, the purchase of a Scout-O-Rama ticket will entitle the bearer to $1 off a Shakey's family size pizza.

The show will be held on Saturday, December 11, from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Anaheim Convention Center, and more than 45,000 Scouts, their families and friends are expected to attend; to see Cubs, Scouts and Explorers display their skills and handicrafts, demonstrations, Pinewood Derby competition, a Cook-O-Rama area of exotic dishes and cooking techniques. In addition to Scouting displays, other United Way agencies will have exhibit booths at the center.

Troop 762 Backpacks

Alger Creek was the destination of Troop 762 for a November backpacking trip. Three leaders, George Thompson, Dick Tooley and Bob Caldwell led the scouts on a two day trip along the Lost Creek Trail and the Vivian Creek riverbed in the San Bernardino Mountains.

Scouts attending were Scott Thompson, Paul Martin, Eric Lettang, Chris Stewart, Arthur Haight, Doug Tooley, Ian Campbell, Robby Caldwell and Mike Goddard.

December events for the troop included a backpacking trip to Camel Back at Joshua Tree on December 4th and 5th. December 11th the annual Scout-O-Rama will be held at the Anaheim Convention Center, and as a special treat a Christmas party will be held on December 20th.

Troop 762 is a strong backpacking troop with a monthly hike for the scouts. Regular meetings are held Mondays from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at Bernardo Yorba School. George Thompson is the scoutmaster.

Aid for Disabled Seniors

For the first time in history, California's disabled senior citizens will be provided vocational rehabilitation services and assistance in finding employment.

The agreement to improve rehabilitation services for the elderly handicapped has been signed by State Rehabilitation Director Ed Roberts and Janet J. Levy, Director of the State Department of Aging.

"The field is wide open," said Roberts. "Not enough has been done in the past to rehabilitate the elderly disabled into work. We in both departments will work together to share our expertise, explore what can be done for the elderly to utilize vocational rehabilitation techniques and develop innovative programs for them."

Society in general considers the working ages of most people to be between 16 and 65 years of age with most of them retiring around the age of 65, Roberts said.

People in the 55 to 65-year-old range and older, in particular, have difficulty convincing employers they are still productive workers. And as the average age of our population grown older, the number of people affected increases.

Because of these conditions, he said, some vocational rehabilitation counselors with limited service funds may have given the elderly disabled a low priority of service or no service at all.

"Our job now is to seek new directions in serving them. The department's objective is to find instances in which the elderly have not been served, to locate these people and to see what can be done for them," he said.

Program on Child Abuse

Child abuse is a growing problem affecting all classes of our society, young and old, rich and poor and black and white.

To help prevent child abuse and neglect, the Orange County Department of Social Services will hold an Information Meeting on December 9, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon for men and women interested in becoming Volunteers in Child Abuse (VICA).

Location of the VICA meeting will be the Orange County Library Headquarters auditorium, 431 City Drive South, Orange.

For further information, please contact the VICA coordinator, Regina Dickens at 834-4703. Attendance at this meeting does not obligate participation.

Jewelers Will Close After Sale

The oldest jewelry store in North Orange County will soon be closing its doors after 26 years of successful service in the city of Placentia.

It will be a going away event for its owners also. Mr. and Mrs. Murray (Murel) Brown who established the Placentia Jewelers in 1950, are now residents of Laguna Beach.

Before the Placentia Jewelers, which is located at 107 North Bradford Avenue, just north of Chapman Avenue, closes its doors however, for a final farewell. There will be a jewelry sale to the bare walls, the Browns report.

"Everything will be sold at wholesale prices and below wholesale prices," Brown reports. "This will be a total sale," he explains.

This particular store (the Browns have three others in Whittier) has come under the particular province of Murel Brown, who at one time in her civic activities here was the first woman commissioner on the city's recreation commission.

Mrs. Brown explains that closing the store is being prompted by the fact that she wishes a little more time to be a grandmother to Jeffrey Michael Brown. Jeffrey is the year and a half old son of their son Michael Brown and his wife. The Browns Senior, also have another son, Myron who is studying dentistry at the University of Nevada.

A FOND FAREWELL to Placentia from Murray and Murel Brown after they close the Placentia Jewelers, the oldest jewelry store in North Orange County. All items will be sold at wholesale cost and below. They began on Santa Fe Street pictured above them.

Mrs. Brown understandably has some regrets at closing the successful shop. Placentia is where it all started. The Browns have a long history of civic involvement in Placentia (he was once a planning commissioner) and they have many friends in the area.

"I've enjoyed the people in Placentia and their business," Mrs. Brown expresses warmly. "It's inevitable that I'm going to miss it."

The store, however, will be open until everything is sold, she emphasized, with the sale already in progress.

The Browns have known each other since grade school in Placentia and recall when Murray as a youth was the city's only newspaper boy. Placentia's population at that time was under 3,000.

After his four years of service in World War II, from Manila into Japan, Murray came back home to Placentia and he and Murel were married in 1946. Murray took training in watchmaking and jewelry and their business was on its way.

Mrs. Brown, during her Placentia years also served as charter president of the Junior Round Table and was a trustee of the library board at one time.

PALM SPRINGS, CALIF. The Palm Springs Aerial Tramway was constructed at a cost of $8.15 million.

Operation Santa Claus

To bring the joy of Christmas to needy youngsters throughout Orange County is the aim of "Operation Santa Claus." This year, the Orange County Social Services Department is sponsoring this unique community and volunteer answer to supplying gifts for foster and dependent children under the protection of the Juvenile Court, infants to teen-agers.

With the help of over 100 volunteers from the community, a very special store in the City Shopping Center is to be opened the week of December 13th, where the foster parents of these children may select appropriate gifts.

New and unwrapped gifts, toys and clothing are urgently needed: Individuals and organizations can donate such gifts or make tax-deductible cash contributions by contacting Sharon Aebersold at 834-4703 or by sending donations to Operation Santa Claus, P.O. Box 1987, Santa Ana, CA 92702.

Early Placentia — Schools Were An Important Project

This continuing history of education in the early Placentia area has been compiled and written by Clairee Tynes, wife of Superintendent of Placentia Unified School District John O. Tynes.

BY CLAIREE TYNES

So the one room school house, Cajon, which would become Placentia in four years, was built near the Southeast corner of Orangethorpe and Placentia Avenue on donated land and financed ($401.54) by a private citizen.

"On Dec. 26, 1874, an election was held to vote a tax for building and school purposes. The sum of $500 tax was voted unanimously and W.M. McFadden was elected assessor and collector. Assessment collected amounting to $644.35 (Presumably Mr. McFadden got his money back.)

When they ran out of money they voted another tax assessment or had a benefit ball.

Expenses: Music $14, Supper $26.50 and Hall $7, Total $47.50. Balance Clear $18.50.

On August 3, 1878, a school tax was passed unanimously by thirteen voters. (Tuffree, Tombes, Wagner, Hansen, C. Hansen, McFadden, Kraemer, Andraita, Dellan, Hind, Hettibrink, Shanklin, and Gilman) A petition to change the name to Placentia School District was approved and the school house moved to the Southeast corner of Chapman and Placentia Avenues.

It's easy to imagine the fiery personalities these stalwart pioneers must have had and their impatience to test their ideas. The lack of records leads one to wonder if the facts were printable. Record Book for Placentia School District, p. 1 Geo. Key Museum.

In 1879 the Los Angeles County Superintendent Report showed Placentia to have forty one census children between age five and fifteen, twenty six of them enrolled, the ADA was 14, and the total value of school property $1,120.00.

TWO POINTS-Warrior Ralph Castle puts up a shot despite the efforts of Hawk Jim Babcock as El Dorado defeated Troy 43 to 41 Friday night.

Aztecs Bubble Bursts

by Peter Bourke

Esperanza High School ended their CIF grid climb last Friday when they lost their quarter final game to top ranked Antelope Valley, 42-6.

The Aztecs were never in the game which saw the Antelopes break out to a 28-0 2nd quarter lead and never look back.

The loss put the Esperanza 1976 record at a concluding 9-2-1 including a second place finish in the Orange League. It was their best season in their short four year existence, bettering last year's impressive 6-3 mark.

Antelope Valley came into the 2-A playoffs as the number one ranked team, and have totaled 124 points in their first three rounds of CIF play.

Esperanza could not seem to stop the Antelope offense, led by the running of tailback, Bill Hillicker and fullback Lee D'Errico. Hillicker rushed for a total of 166 yards while D'Errico scored three touchdowns en route to a 145 yard rushing performance.

The Aztecs showed an inability to generate an offense, a problem complicated by the absence of standout end Jim Teahan, sidelined with a fractured thumb. Aztec Quarterback Mike Ludwig had an off night passing, throwing 17 times and completing just six. The Antelopes picked off four Ludwig passes, one run back for a touchdown.

Moving the ball almost at will, Antelope Valley drove 66 yards following the opening kickoff to record their first of several TD's. Pat McCool got the touchdown when he caught a 23 yard pass from quarterback Ed T'Sas. Ron Salazar added the PAT to make the score 7-0.

An Aztec fumble led to the next Antelope score, as tailback Don Stodola bobbled the ball at the Esperanza 26 where Antelope Valley fell on it.

It took just two plays to tally the second score when D'Errico went 16 yards for the touchdown. Salazar again converted the point after as he did with all six Antelope Valley scores.

Esperanza was never again in the game and seemed to just watch the Antelopes run away from them.

In the second quarter, AV scored twice, first on a 63 yard D'Errico dash and second on a 55 yard interception run by Alan Tomlinson.

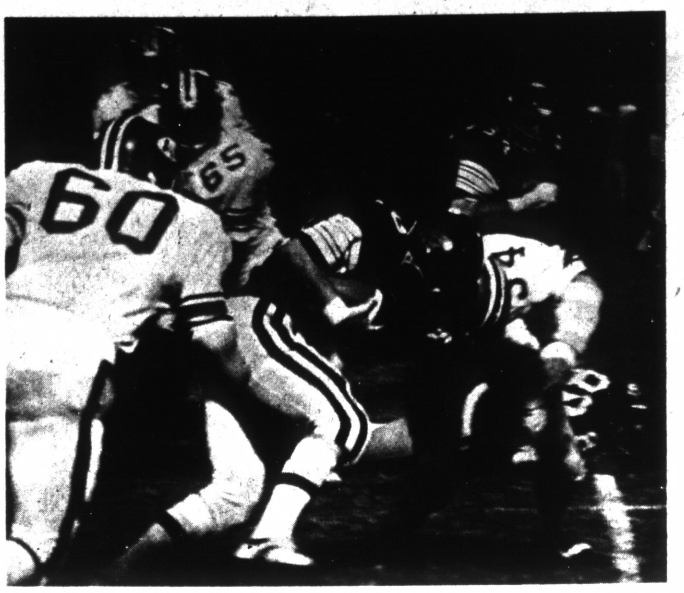
Esperanza made their only points of the game during the 2nd quarter when with 41 seconds left in the half, Don Stodola went 5 yards for the TD.

It capped a 67 yard Aztec drive and was the only time the Aztecs ever even threatened to score. The half ended with Antelope Valley ahead by a commanding 28-6 score.

The Antelopes didn't let up in the third quarter and on drives of 62 and 76 yards got the final two tallies. D'Errico scored his final of three touchdowns on the first drive of the quarter on a 12 yard run. T'Sas added the final touchdown with a 7 yard end run to end the scoring at 42-6.

Don Stodola was the only bright spot for the Aztecs, rushing for a net 102 yards.

Antelope Valley will now go on to the semi-finals of the CIF 2-A competition where they will meet San Dimas. In the other semi-final game, Norte Vista will face Aviation.



LONG NIGHT for Esperanza High is typified in this photo of quarterback Tim Ludwig being smothered by Antelope Valley defenders. Aztecs lost 2A CIF quarterfinal playoff game to AV 42-6. Don Stodola scored team's only points.

Hawks Start Right; 43 to 41

by Brian Hilderbrand

El Dorado connected on only 18 of 62 shots from the floor, but hit on two more free throws than Troy, as the Golden Hawks emerged with a 43-41 win in their first outing of the 1976-77 campaign.

Troy also hit 18 shots (of 43) from the field, but sank only five charity shots in 18 attempts, two less than ED, and that proved to be the margin of victory.

Jim Babcock led the Hawks' scoring attack with 12 points, hitting four of seven field goals and half of his eight free throw attempts.

With just 17 seconds remaining in the game, the Hawks leading 40-36, Troy got the ball on a turnover. Mark Maynard closed the margin to two points on a layup, and drew a foul.

Maynard had a chance to make it a one point deficit for Troy on a free throw try, but missed.

On the ensuing inbounding play, Babcock was fouled. By hitting both of the one-plus-one situation he put the game away.

Along with Babcock's 12, other Hawks scoring were Dave Calhoun with eight, Mike Martin, six, John Heller and Rick Hayes, four apiece, and Steve Peacock with three. Rob Linn, Joe Martin and Todd Bourman each added two points.

Following a game Tuesday at Bolsa Grande, the Hawks will travel to San Dimas High School. El Dorado's first opponent in the San Dimas Tournament will be South Hills. Game time will be 3 p.m. on Friday. A win then will put the Hawks in the second round to be played Saturday night at 7 p.m.

Junior Basketball Sign Up Time

There's still time to sign up for the Boys and Girls Basketball Leagues being sponsored by the Placentia Recreation Department.

The leagues are open to boys in third through eighth grades and girls in fifth and sixth grades.

Registrations are being accepted at the Recreation Department office, 117 North Main Street. Office hours are Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The last day to register will be Friday, December 10. For further information, call 993-8232.

All League Water Polo

El Dorado and Brea placed two men each on the first team of the All-League selections for water polo in the Orange League. Brea's Gordon Gresch, a senior, was named Most Valuable Player.

Joining Gresch as a top pick was teammate goalie Steve Arlt. The Golden Hawks had Devin Claffey and Bob Sellers on the team. Peter Bourke represents Esperanza and Fred Forsch is the Fullerton representative.

El Dorado dominated the second team with three picks. Goalie Jay Bickford, Eric Andrews and Mark Rangel qualified. Dan Moon and Randy Moody are from Brea. Esperanza's Glenn McKeever and Sonora's Cliff Houser rounded out the second squad.

Honorable men on went to Chip Reiter and Karl Reiter of Valencia, John Keech and Gary Messner of Fullerton, Neil Macready and Kevin O'Brien of La Habra, Brad Stolchek of Sonora and Bill Tripp of Brea.

All of the first team members are seniors with the exception of Forsch. The second team has four juniors, two seniors and one sophomore.

Knoop Back

Yorba Linda's Bobby Knoop, who recently said he was leaving his post as manager of the El Paso Diabolos, an Angel farm team, to devote full time to his insurance business has had a change of heart.

Contacted by newly named Chicago White Sox manager, Bob Lemon, Knoop accepted a position as third base coach for the American League team.

Contest Winner

The weekly football contest, "GRIDIRON GUESSES", ended the way it began with a female fan winning. She had to do it on the toss of a coin as Joyce Romero, 8941 Pacific, Anaheim, tied with Jerry Brown, 4491 Via Del Valle, Yorba Linda, with 15 correct picks. The coin fell in Joyce's favor.

Joyce successfully picked against area teams in the CIF playoff and missed on only two of 11 pro games for her 15 right choices. Brown was the only fan to pick West Covina to upset St. Paul.

The winner can claim her prize at sponsor Yorba Linda Equipment Rentals, 4791 Eureka, Yorba Linda, by picking up her winning entry form at the STAR office, 4897 Main Street.

High Pockets Beat Runners

On Sunday, the Girl's Division III High Pockets and Roadrunners met in an action packed soccer playoff game that earned the High Pockets the distinction of being Number One! The Roadrunners, under the leadership of Manager Georgine Schachtell, had won the first half of the division while the High Pockets were victors of the second half.

During the season, the two teams of 9-10 year olds, had played each other twice with the RR's coming out on top both times. Consequently, the High Pockets really had to play aggressive ball to take the divisional championship away from them with a final score of 1-0.

According to the High Pocket's manager, Michelle Nix, her team played, ..."an aggressive offensive game which turned into a defensive contest in the fourth quarter to protect our lead".

STOP Second In Regionals

Two Swim Team of Placentia age group water polo teams finished in second place in the Southern California Championships played at Mt. San Antonio College.

The 10 and under age group team of girls and boys defeated El Monte and San Clemente in the finals but lost to Mt. Sac. Scores were STOP 8 San Clemente 4 (scoring by Bell 2, Christine Johnson 2, Robert Sadlak 2, Steve Anderson 1, David McAfee 1); Mt. Sac 7 STOP 4 (scoring Bell 2, Sadlak 2).

Other STOP team members were: Jodi Hanna, Scott Mori, Rob Hanna, Craig Tillman, Todd Harris, Eric Bellwood and David Evans played goalie.

The 12 and under age group girls team defeated El Monte with a 5 to 3 score in the finals. STOP scores were made by Nancy Sadlak 3, Saundra Oberle 1 and Margaret Andrews 1. The girls lost to Mt. Sac in a well played game by a score of 2 to 1 with Lisa Scottoline making the goal. Julie Poole was goalie. Other team members were: Jill Ward, Lori McAfee, Sharon Jennings, and Stacey Hanna.

Three STOP swimmers who placed in their events at a recent AAU "AB" meet held at Mission Viejo were: Sue Powers placed 4th in the 11 and 12 year old "A" girls 200 yard back with a time of 2:30.8. Ann Duncan was fourth in the "B" 7 and 8 girls 100 yard free with 1:29.1. Mike Tillman took second place in the "B" 7 and 8 boys 50 yard breast with 49.28.

Traub Chosen President Of Police Chiefs

Placentia Police Chief Norm Traub has been elected to succeed Chief Earle Robitaille, City of Huntington Beach, as President of the Orange County Chiefs of Police and Sheriff's Association for 1977.

Chief Roger Neth, Costa Mesa Police Department, will replace Chief Traub as Secretary-Treasurer of the Association.

Blood Donations Needed

Inventories of life saving blood are seriously low at this time of the year. To make it as convenient as possible for residents of the area to donate blood, the American Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at Placentia-Linda Hospital, 1301 Rose Drive, Placentia on Friday, Dec. 17, from 2 to 6:30 p.m.

All hospitals in Orange County transfuse only blood received from volunteer donors which has been collected, tested and processed by the Red Cross Blood Program. This reduces the risk of transmission of hepatitus and assures the healthiest, most potent pint of blood and blood components.

Help save a life the American Red Cross urges. Call 993-2000 or 835-5381 for information and appointments.

All persons between 17 and 65 years of age, in good health, are eligible to give blood. Seventeen year olds require a signed parental release form.

Kraemer Bands Wins 3 Awards

The Kraemer Junior High School band marched away with third place honors Saturday in the La Mirada Christmas parade. The group is under the direction of Gary Lee.

Sunday the band won second place in the Downey Christmas Parade and the group's national color guard unit placed third.

Because of the showings, the band has been invited to participate in the Azalea Parade which will be held in Southgate, it was reported.

Tee Up with Burt Brooks

Steve Horrell, of Singing Hills Country Club in El Cajon was elected president of the Southern California Golf Association following their annual meeting held Friday, Nov. 5, at California Country Club in Whittier. He succeeds Bill Bryant.

Horrell has served on the SCGA Board of Directors since 1968. In addition to being the vice-president of the Association last year, he has served in the past as chairman of the Amateur reinstatement, Membership and Greens Committees.

Horrell, a 42-year-old, eight - handicapper, had never played golf prior to graduation from Stanford University in 1955. His golf career started at Alondra Park Country Club, which was owned by the same partners as Singing Hills.

From 1956 to 1961 he worked as assistant manager at Singing Hills, before becoming general manager with his current partner, Jerry Hollingsworth. Horrell acquired interest in Singing Hills in 1968.

Although he is generally associated with Singing Hills, the only 54-hole country club in Southern California, Horrell's involvement and dedication to golf has been diverse.

He is president of the Century Club of San Diego (sponsors of Andy Williams San Diego Open), and served as the general chairman of that tournament from 1968-1973.

He was president of the American Golf Sponsors from 1974-1975, and currently serves on the Board of Directors for the San Diego Junior Golf Association. In 1976, Horrell was elected a member of the USGA Executive Committee. He is also a member of the La Jolla Country Club.

Also elected as officers for 1977 were: Raymond G. Gillette, Bel-Air, vice-president; John Lewis, Hacienda, secretary; John Argue, Oakmont, treasurer.

Other board members elected were: Keith Adams, Santa Maria; Serge Ballif, Wilshire; Harlan Bleecker, San Gabriel; Frank Chilson, El Dorado; Carl Dwire Saticoy; Tom Hays, Annandale; Jim House, Del Rio Bob Hoven, Stockdale; Bil Livingston, Santa Ana; Stad Loveys, Lakeside; Steve Miletich, Braemar; Pete Patman, Hillcrest; Jim Pierce, Los Angeles; David Shore, Brentwood; Harold Tebbetts, Stardust; Bob Thompson, Virginia; and Conrad Walburger, Red Hill.

Also elected to the board was Bill Bryant, California, past president of the Association.

YMCA Basketball

The Yorba Linda YMCA is offering two different basketball programs for Yorba Linda Youth.

The first is an instructional League for 6, 7, and 8 year old boys and girls. Its purpose is to teach basketball skills; passing, dribbling, shooting, rebounding, team play, sportsmanship and have fun.

The instructional league will be directed by Bob Phelps, physical education specialist with the Placentia School District.

Instruction will be held on Tuesday and Thursdays from 3:30 to 4:45, January 4th to March 1st. Registration begins immediately. The cost is $9 which includes a team shirt.

The second program offered by the Y in Yorba Linda is the Youth League for 4th-8th graders. A 4th grade league, a 5th grade league, a 6th grade league and a Jr. High league will play at various competing schools throughout the city.

The Youth League is a non-pressure league where boys and girls have fun, learn basketball skills, team play, sportsmanship and compete in a 10 game playing schedule. Everyone plays an equal amount of time.

There are no league standing kept, nor is there an all star team. The values of fair play, enjoyment and personal development are stressed more than winning.

However, game scores are kept and the games will be run by official referees under the direction of Phelps.

Registration begins December 1st. Team meetings will be held December 15 and teams will be organized for each school where possible. Games will be played on Mondays and Wednesdays at 3:30 beginning January 12th. An award ceremony will be held on March 1st.

The cost of joining the league is $9 which includes team shirts, materials and referees.

Coaches and assistants are always needed for this type of league.

Interested persons should contact the YMCA.

To register for basketball leagues or to volunteer as a coach, come into the YMCA at 5035 Lakeview, Yorba Linda or call 993-5111. The Y is open Monday through Friday from 9 - 5.

County Grid Team

Troy, Esperanza and Servite placed several players on the All Orange County football team selected by the OC Sportswriters Association.

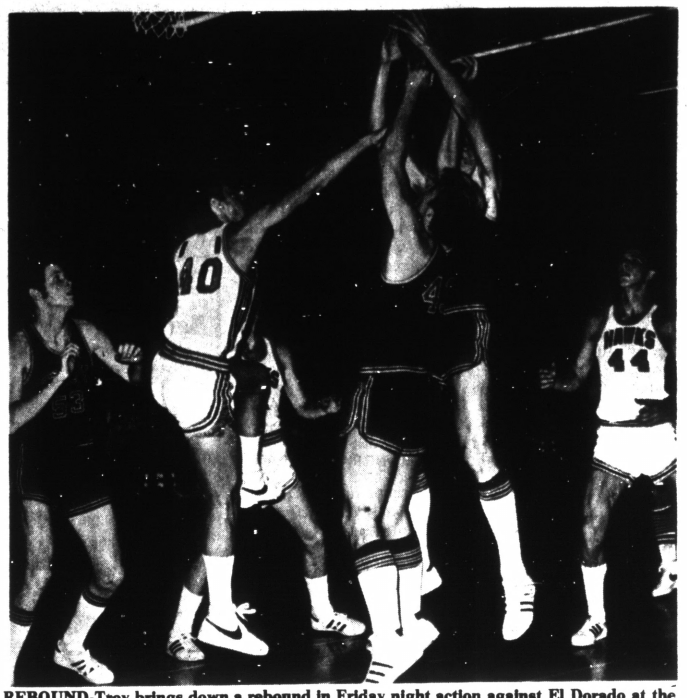
Two Warriors were named to first team offense, offense, Tim Myers at center and Tony Bushala at running back.

A trio of Aztecs were honored. Running back Don Stodola was picked for second team offense. Dave Lobaugh was chosen for linebacker and Bob Neria for defensive back on the second team.

Servite got six positions and linebacker Mike Kenlon also claimed "Defensive Player of the Year" honors. Joining Kenlon on first team defense were George Kenlon at end and Marty Fuentes at tackle.

Tight end Chris Elias made second team offense, defensive back Tim Coleman second team defense and running back Len Altavilla, third team offense.

Of the 11 all but Coleman are seniors.



REBOUND-Troy brings down a rebound in Friday night action against El Dorado at the Warrior Gym. Identifiable in the struggle are Troy's Ralph Castle and El Dorado's Joe Martin as John Heller [44] and Mark Maynard [53] await the outcome.

Tiger Talk

Two other varsity members, Steve Barlow and Kevin Harbert, made all league second team defensive line.

Girls Impressive

Girls's athletics is working toward a rewarding season by presently conditioning for track, basketball, and gymnastics.

Jane Rogers, PE department head, feels this year's hockey team has a chance for league. A short season is anticipated for the returning players as competition ends Jan. 15.

New blue and gold uniforms will outfit the players, and more girls are encouraged by Miss Rogers to go out and get involved in this sport.

Soccer Begins

New head coach, Steve Hernandez leads the Tigers' Soccer varsity team against the squad he coached last year. Jim Segovia and Raul Montezuma coach junior varsity.

The Tigers' first league game is against Servite Dec. 7 at the Bradford Stadium. The game will begin at 3 p.m.

Returning lettermen are Gary Balas, Jacinto Padilla, Gerard Rodriguez and Robert Sanchez.

Exchange Student

"I've always had a desire to come to America," said Valencia's exchange student, Sibylle Ganzhorn. "I believe I am very fortunate to be here."

As a native of Germany, Miss Ganzhorn has experienced life differently from many American 16 year olds. "To compare days in Germany to those in the U.S. is two different things," she explains.

The blonde has finally adjusted to the 7 hour school day at VHS compared to the 5 hour schedule in German schools. She must complete 3 more years of schooling when she returns to Germany next year. Then, she would like to attend a German university.

Miss Ganzhorn's plan for the future is to become a professional interpretor. "Now that I have learned both German and English, I think it would be the ideal occupation for me," she said smiling.

Preps Can Dunk Now

High school versions of "Dr. J", Abdul Jabbar, Bill Walton and the rest of the fabled basketball stars have had the shackles removed for the 1976-77 season and the dunk is back in prep basketball.

It was the dominance of Jabbar, then Lew Alcindor of UCLA, that moved the NCAA to outlaw the dunk shot in 1967-68. High school ranks followed suit and the stuff shot was restricted to the pros.

But the colleges have brought back the crowd pleasing scoring tactic and, again, the high schools have done the same.

But, there is a catch to it. While the players can dunk in a game there will be no "hot dogging" in pre-game or halftime warmups. Dunking at either of those times will earn a technical foul.

Another major change that also draws a "T" will be two shots assessed any coach, follower or team attendant resulting from unsportsmanlike conducted while seated on the team bench.

Bench antics by some coaches and other personnel have become a major problem, according to the CIF. The rules committee is most desirous of curtailing the rapidly encroaching problem of poor bench decorum.

The two shot technical foul may do it. Now if someone could only come up with a penalty to be levied against the unsportsmanlike fans.

Wrestlers Spark Team

Cypress College's grapplers have won eight consecutive conference championships and five straight regional titles.

Boasting some Placentia members, the squad includes three outstanding freshmen who will lead off for the 1976 state junior college runnerups. Russ Michaud of Kennedy High (Barstow) will open at 118 pounds, while Mike Engle (126) of Loara and Glenn Oltsmanns (134) from Sunny Hills High fill the next two spots.

Co-captain Gregg Okoorian, the sophomore from Western, who placed fourth in the state last season, returns at 142 with freshman Rick Brazney formerly of Valencia High School, Placentia cracking the lineup at 150. Coach Ray Haas describes the aggressive Brazney as a "pleasant surprise."

Regional runnerup Placentian Greg Johnson, a sophomore from El Dorado, drops from his 167 spot to 158 as Nat DeArmond, a transfer from Humboldt State who prepped at Rancho Alamitos High, will debut for the Chargers at 167, the coach reports.

Polo Championship Sinks

by Brian Hilderbrand

El Dorado's hopes of a repeat CIF 3A water polo championship were drowned last Tuesday, with a 7-5 loss to Cabrillo in the second round of the playoffs in the Cypress College pool.

The Golden Hawks, down by two at the half, came back to tie the score after three periods. Cabrillo pulled the game out with 3:15 left in the contest as Phil Pellerin utilized a pass from Lloyd Cordone to put the Conquistadores ahead for good, 6-5.

Cabrillo got on the scoreboard first, with a goal by Mike Ceruti. El Dorado tied the score at 1-1 on a shot from Mark Rangel.

Art Courville hit on a goal near the end of the first quarter, giving Cabrillo a 2-1 advantage.

Pellerin connected on a lob shot early in the second period to give Cabrillo a 3-1 lead at the half.

Eric Andrews proved to be the offensive mainstay, putting three goals in for the Hawks during the third period to keep ED's hopes alive.

Andrews scored on two penalty shots at the 3:17 and 2:24 marks to tie the score at three apiece.

Cordone came back with a goal for the visitors (2:04 left in the period), as Cabrillo again took the lead, 4-3.

El Dorado tied the score again with 23 seconds remaining in the third on a 15 foot shot by Andrews. Going into the final six minutes of play, the score stood at 4-4.

Cordone broke the tie in the fourth period on a lob shot with one minute gone. Andrews, however, hit on a 20 foot shot to even the score at 5-5.

Then, with 3:15 left in the game, Pellerin hit on a shot to put the Conquistadores in the quarterfinals. Mike Fioti scored with just 59 seconds left to ice the score at 7-5.

"We were not outplayed, but we were certainly beat," said a disheartened Walt Druff following his team's loss.

El Dorado finished the season with a 16-6 record, and captured the Orange League title with a perfect 6-0 mark.
